'Bargain' Defense Plan Offered

Separate UMT Setup Wouldn't Be Necessary

Youths 18-19 Would Train With Draftees

WASHINGTON, April 23—(AP)—A bargain-counter preparedness plan under which 18 and 19-year-olds would be trained along with draftees for the time being, instead of in a separate universal military training program, was approved today by Secretary of Defense Forrestal.

Under this plan, proposed by Sen. Baldwin (R-Conn.), Tydings (D-Md.) and others, the cost of a separate UMT setup, with its far-flung system of camps and other institutions, would be largely avoided for the present. Sponsors said it would be a feasible way of providing the nation quickly with trained reserves.

The administration had recommended two methods of building up the armed forces and reserves:

1. A temporary selective service law. Under this young men, perhaps 19 through 25 years of age, would be inducted for possibly two years in the armed forces.

Longer-Range UMT Plan

2. A longer-range UMT plan under which youths, say 18 and 19 years of age, would be given universal military training. Under a plan approved by the House Armed Services Committee, they would be given six months of basic training in UMT camps or ships. Then they would have the choice of undergoing six months more of training, or of returning to school or work and taking further training with the National Guard or reserves. These youths would not be in the armed forces, and could not be called to fight except by act of congress.

Under the senatorial plan, the start of this separate UMT training plan would be delayed for at least a year. But the youths would be trained, say for six months, by the regular armed forces, then they would be released on condition that they join the National Guard or reserves.

Forrestal, in a letter to Sen. Gurney (R-S.D.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said hebelieves some such plan, "if superseded as soon as possible by a program of universal military training," would "give us a maximum military strength for a minimum of cost."

He emphasized that he was still in favor of UMT.

Forrestal has insisted on "balanced" armed forces, and says a 70-group Air Force might do more harm than good.

Kansas City Police Attack CIO Packinghouse Strikers; Scores Hurt; Hall Wrecked

Law Cracks Down On Mass Picketing

KANSAS CITY, Kas., April 23 (AP)—Police, ordered to stop mass picketing in the packinghouse strike here, wrecked a CIO hall today in a 10-minute skull-cracking charge which sent 10 persons to hospitals.

Following the bloody police attack on strikers at the strike-bound Cudahy Packing Company plant, a temporary restraining order was issued against illegal picketing there.

The district court action came even as officials of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO) ordered their members to cease work at eight other plants, previously unaffected.

Seventy policemen, the entire Kansas City, Kas., force, rushed the union hall near the plant a few minutes after they had cleared the streets of pickets.

They rushed the union hall after Police Captain Eli Dahlin had attempted to tell the strikers over a safety car loundspeaker that the police were "not going to take any more guff" in the 39-day-old strike at Cudahy's, Wilson and Company, and Armour and Company.

Ralph M. Baker, district director of the United Packinghouse Workers of America, said the police were guilty of "common brutality" and ordered union members at the eight smalled packing plants to walk out. Baker said that 100 other persons were injured, but none seriously enough to be hospitalized.

Ordered To "Crack Skulls"

Police arrived at the scene with orders from Dahlin that "we have played with this thing long enough." Numerous flareups have occurred at Cudahy's since the strike began.

Before the clash Dahlin had called in the entire police force and told them:

"You are to crack skulls if they ask for it, no matter who they are. That means strike leaders and all, even a member of the city's legal staff if he interferes."

Dahlin's reference apparently was

Will Supervise Council Order To Cease Fire

Commission Could Begin Work At Once

LAKE SUCCESS, April 23 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council set up a three-nation truce commission tonight to press once more for peace in Palestine.

It was given the specific task of supervising the council's April 17 cease-fire order, which thus far has been ignored by Jews and Arabs.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko told the council the United States "is afraid x x of any resolution which might normalize the situation in Palestine."

"The truce will be successful only when an end has been put to the machinations that are going on daily, even while these meetings are going on," Gromyko said.

The truce commission, proposed by the United States, will be composed of the consular representatives of the United States, France and Belgium in Jerusalem. It will thus be ready to begin work immediately in the Holy Land.

Vote Is 8 To 0

The council vote was 8 to 0. Russia, Colombia and the Soviet Ukraine abstained.

Both Russia and the Soviet Ukraine attacked the move as a United States plan to wreck the Palestine partition project but Russia did not veto the commission proposal as she could have.

The British earlier had urged the 58-member Political Committee of the special Palestine Assembly to stop trying to find a final Palestine solution at present.

British Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech-Jones said the United Nations instead should concentrate now on action to avert the spread of civil war.

Creech-Jones supported a French proposal for emergency action to protect the holy places of Jerusalem. He also agreed that the United Nations should study the trusteeship plan advocated by the United States.

The French measure has first priority when committee debate is resumed Monday.

The task of the newly-created truce commission was restricted to assisting the Security Council "in supervising the implementation by the parties" of the truce order.

Jews Urged To Mobilize

The United States, France and Belgium agreed they would name three representatives to work on the truce here while their consuls worked in Palestine.

Efforts were being made to arrange a meeting here tomorrow.

The council adjourned at 7:12 p. m. (EST) without setting a date for the next meeting.

Chief United States Delegate Warren R. Austin submitted his proposal after British, Arab and Jewish representatives had reported failure to comply with the council's truce order.

The two-front diplomatic moves developed here as David Ben-Guron, premier-designate of the Jewish government, in a Passover broad-

Four Lose Lives In Iowa Tornado

Twister Wipes Out Much Of Ionia, Ia.

CHARLES CITY, Ia., April 23 (AP)—Four persons—two women and two children—lost their lives today as a tornado wiped out much of the nearby town of Ionia. Eleven others were injured.

One witness said the storm, which struck about 3:30 p. m., sounded "like a train" as it rolled toward the community of 290 population.

The dead were:

Mrs. Simon Huffman, about 70.

Billy Huffman, Jr., 10, her grandson.

Mrs. Leo Brooks and her small child.

Dan Siglin, a mail carrier who was slightly hurt when pinned under an apple tree, said the storm came up within about two minutes.

"Funny" Cloud Only Warning

"There were three or four of us standing in front of the bank building, when a stranger—a traveling salesman I think—said 'there comes the real thing,'" Siglin said.

"I looked off to the southwest where he was pointing, and I saw a funny cloud. It wasn't a long black funnel like you usually think of in connection with a tornado, and I didn't think it would be serious.

"There was no doubt a storm was coming, though, so I started for home. I live less than half a block from the bank, but I didn't make it.

"I just got to the corner of my yard when an uprooted apple tree fell on me. About that time my neighbor's garage roof landed on top of the apple tree and I lost interest in things for a while.

"I wasn't badly hurt. My back was wrenched a little bit, and my legs are bruised and kind of sore. But my house wasn't hurt and my family is safe."

Church Is Demolished

The storm demolished the Congregational Church, at least five homes, the building of the International Harvester Company, a stucco filling station and the village bandstand. At least a dozen homes were badly damaged, and one belonging to Dan Dudley, was overturned.

From Ionia the storm skipped 20

Steel Union Will Seek Pay Boosts Despite Setback

Negotiation Deadline Extension Requested

PITTSBURGH, April 23 (AP)—The CIO-United Steel Workers served notice today it will plug for pay boosts despite United States Steel Corporation's avowed attempt to peg living costs by denying wage increases and cutting prices.

The big union's potent wage-policy committee adopted a resolution here renewing a "no-strike" promise but calling on about 600 steel producing and fabricating companies to extend deadlines on current wage negotiations.

Westinghouse Cuts Prices

The United States Steel Corporation, No. 1 steel producer and employer of 225,000, announced yesterday it had refused to grant the union's demand for "a substantial wage increase."

Instead, the corporation disclosed, it was cutting prices to the tune of $25,000,000 a year, in an attempt to promote a trend toward lower living costs. Westinghouse Electric Corporation then announced it was reducing prices approximately $3,125,000 a year. General Electric Company previously announced price cuts.

A hint that other steel companies

Fish That Drank Like Fish Hook Still Operators

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Hundreds of fish that drank like—well, fish—today hooked 15 men.

A federal grand jury, with an assist from the finny guzzlers, indicted the men on charges of defrauding the government of $520,000 in alcohol taxes.

They were accused of running old-fashioned stills in Orange and Dutchess Counties.

Their downfall came, Assistant United States Attorney Robert Mitchell said, when they decided to dump their mash in a brook near an Orange County still.

The mash killed so many fish that local fishermen figured something was very fishy, and sent in complaints.

Doctors Believe They Can Repair Reuther's Arm

Mystery Witness Enters Manhunt

DETROIT, April 23 (AP)—Walter P. Reuther received the welcome news today that his shattered right arm may be repaired.

The president of the CIO United Auto Workers was shot down Tuesday night by an unknown gunman. His arm nearly was ripped from his body.

While doctors compared notes on Reuther's progress, a mystery witness—a Mr. X—entered the police manhunt for the would-be killer.

He was brought to police headquarters in greatest secrecy in the midst of routine questioning of Reuther's political foes within the big union.

"Mr. X" Is "Respectable"

Downtown, where police are conducting one of Detroit's greatest manhunts, Prosecutor James N. McNally refused to identify his mystery witness except to say that he was the father of six children and "respectable."

McNally said the tipster, whom he referred to as "Mr. X", gave some "valuable information."

According to the prosecutor, the witness told police he overheard Nelson Davis, a self-admitted Communist, state that he knew who tried to kill Reuther.

Davis denied making any such remark. No charge was placed against

Judge Defers Any Further Penalty For John L. Lewis

Coal Production Is Almost Normal

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—Federal Court decided today against any further punishment at this time for John L. Lewis and his miners for contempt. Coal production spurted meanwhile to almost normal for the first time in six weeks.

Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, the stern judge who twice has slapped big fines on Lewis and the United Mine Workers for striking in defiance of a court order, commented that:

"The court is more than happy to know that the normal situation is being restored."

He postponed indefinitely any fine or prison sentence for civil contempt of court. Three days ago he fined Lewis $20,000 and the UMW $1,400,000 for criminal contempt.

This meant the miners still were on their "good behavior" and could be penalized for another walkout. They are still under a court injunction to keep digging coal.

Goldsborough granted the government's request for a Taft-Hartley Act injunction on Wednesday, restraining the union and its officers from striking during an indefinite period.

The Taft-Hartley Act, which Lewis has fought tooth and nail, calls for an 80-day cooling off period under such an injunction against major walkouts.

If the miners continue to stream back to work as they have been doing since Tuesday night, normal output should be achieved next Monday, in the opinion of government attorneys. Lewis sent out a frank plea to the miners Tuesday to get on the job immediately. That was after the fines were imposed by Goldsborough, but while there was a still a threat of jail and stiffer fines to be meted out today.

The pension dispute which touched off the strike March 15 is by no means settled. Lewis has called a meeting of the trustees Monday. The others are Ezra Van Horn, Cleveland, for the operators, and Sen. Bridges (R-NH), the neutral member. Bridges and Lewis made a compromise settlement April 12 on the basis of which the UMW chief said the pension dispute was over. Van Horn has asked a court injunction against the Bridges-Lewis plan.

Marshall Leaves Bogota For U.S.A.

Says That Events Demand His Return

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 23. (AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall flew home tonight from the Pan American Conference.

He left the afternoon session of the conference after telling fellow delegates that important events demanded his return to Washington. United States Ambassador Willard Beaulac and several members of the United States delegation to the conference accompanied Marshall to the airport to see him off.

Prospects for an early adjournment of the conference appeared bright as the delegates tackled the few remaining major items on the agenda.

Although the conference is likely to continue another week, Marshall explained he had stayed in Bogota longer than he had expected because "I felt due to the critical situation here it was necessary that I remain until the most fundamental issues were agreed upon."

Marshall wished the delegates of the other American republics and their people a "steady increase in their fortunes." He was vigorously applauded as he bid farewell in Spanish.

Aides said he probably would stop briefly in Panama but is expected to arrive in Washington early tomorrow. He was accompanied by Brig. Gen. Marshall S. Carter, a special assistant.

Problems Demand Attention

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall's unexpected departure from the Bogota conference was reported to be prompted by an accumulation of problems demanding his attention in Washington rather than by any particular crisis in world affairs.

Perhaps the most urgent problem of foreign policy which might require early action by Marshall is the Palestine situation.

Senate Commerce Group Will Probe RCA's Operations

Inquiry May Center On FM And Television

WASHINGTON, April 23.—(AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee will open an intensive investigation of operations of the Radio Corporation of America next week, Acting Chairman Tobey (R-NH) announced late today.

Reporters asked the basis for the inquiry. Tobey replied:

"Collusion and the efforts of large interests to hamstring progress in radio circles.

From Tobey's preliminary statements, it appeared that the investigation would center on RCA's attitude toward frequency modulation (FM) broadcasting and television. The exact date of the hearing is to be announced later.

Johnson Bill Hearings End

The impending investigation was announced as the committee ended open hearings on a bill by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) which would prohibit super-power standard broadcasting stations.

Tobel, who has been presiding during the illness of Chairman White R-Me), laid the groundwork for the RCA investigation by calling Raymond Guy, National Broadcasting Company engineer, back to the witness stand.

Tobey repeated to Guy a charge he has made more than once during the hearings on the Johnson Bill: That RCA and NBC have tried to "hamstring" the development of static-free FM broadcasting in the United States.

Guy Denies Charge

Guy vigorously denied the charge. Tobey reiterated that RCA had tried to "kill off" FM, and said he would present documentary evidence to bear his statement.

Tobey called on Dr. Edwin H. Armstrong, whom he described as the inventor of FM, to back him up. Armstrong, testifying under oath, said Tobey's statements were true, "from my own personal knowledge and experience."

In questioning Guy about RCA's practices concerning patents and royalties on television, Tobey assert-

Five Are Saved After Ditching Bomber At Sea

QUONSET, R. I., April 23 (AP)—A Navy twin-engine medium bomber carrying five men was ditched at sea tonight 104 miles southsoutheast of this naval air station.

Officers said the S.S. Washington bound for New York picked up the survivors at 10 p. m. (E.S.T.)

Because of faulty radio communication with the ship, the station was unable to learn any further details.

MacFadden Is Wed Despite Outburst By 'Goat Woman'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 23—(AP) Bernarr MacFadden, 79-year-old physical culturist, and vivacious, blonde Mrs. Jonnie Lee, 42, New York, were married today despite an outburst in the church during the ceremony by a crusader known only as "the goat woman."

"The goat woman," who leads a goat through downtown areas while she crusades against tobacco, suddenly appeared in the south cloister of the Miami Beach Community Church on Lincoln Road while MacFadden and Mrs. Lee were making their vows before a flower-decked altar.

She ran behind the altar and shouted: "This is against the Holy Word. It is illegal."

Three ushers, all bellboys from the MacFadden-Deauville Hotel, raced after her, chased her to the north cloister and ejected her from the church. The goat usually with her was absent this time.

As this went on, MacFadden answered Rev. John Yenches in clear, firm tones, but the excitement caused him to forget to kiss his bride as the ceremony ended. Rev. Yenches reminded him that the kiss was a part of the ceremony, and MacFadden kissed his bride.

He wore a grey suit, and Mrs. MacFadden—his third wife—was clad in sculptured gown of magnolia crepe decorated with tiny crystal beads and molded to the body.

Five hundred persons were inside the church, a few in beach togs and a very few in shorts. One thousand more were crowded outside the edifice awaiting a glimpse of the bride and groom, whom they showered with rice.

Wright Plane Will Be Placed In Smithsonian

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The Wright brothers' Kitty Hawk, the first airplane to fly, will be placed in the Smithsonian Institution when it is returned from England.

This was made known officially today in a statement issued jointly by the Smithsonian, the executors of the Orville Wright estate and the Science Museum of South Kensington, London.

Orville Wright, who died January 30, sent the plane to England in 1928 because of a dispute with the Smithsonian over credit for designing the first flyable craft. He asked for its return in 1943.

Four Killed When Army Plane Crashes In Swamp

CANFIELD, Ark., April 23. (AP)—Four Army airmen were killed today when a two-engined Army plane crashed near here in the desolate Bayou Bodcaw swamp.

Arkansas state police at Hope, 40 miles north of here, said the craft was a B-25 from Barksdale Field, La.

W. E. Copeland, Canfield merchant, said the plane crashed after dropping a motor and a wing more than a quarter-mile away. The plane did not burn. One of the bodies had a staff sergeant's insignia. The other three were in coveralls.

"Cruel" To Arline

Topping Is Divorced; Will Wed Lana Turner Monday

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, April 23 (INS)—Lana Turner and Henry J. (Bob) Topping are getting married Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of William R. Wilkerson, publisher of the Hollywood Reporter.

This was made possible by the divorce which Arline Judge was granted today in the Superior Court at Bridgeport, Conn.

Topping has been in Palm Springs with his fiancee.

The reason the Turner - Topping marriage can take place Monday is because the three-day wait set up by Connecticut laws does not affect marriages performed in California.

Arline Judge

A Los Angeles judge will perform the ceremony. William Wilkerson will act as best man, and the ceremony will be performed in the presence of a dozen people. However, at 5 p. m. a large reception will be given to all their friends.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 23 (AP)—Actress Arline Judge today was granted a divorce from Sportsman Bob Topping, her fifth husband, $100,000 alimony in a lump sum and $15,000 counsel fees. She was in court; Topping was not.

Prior to announcement of the award she told Judge John H. King in Superior Court that Topping, Greenwich heir to a tinplate fortune, was insanely jealous, struck her, called her vile names and twice threatened to shoot her.

The actress sued for an uncontested divorce on a cross-complaint charging intolerable cruelty.

"There was no doubt a storm was coming, though, so I started for home. I live less than half a block from the bank, but I didn't make it.

"I just got to the corner of my yard when an uprooted apple tree fell on me. About that time my neighbor's garage roof landed on top of the apple tree and I lost interest in things for a while.

"I wasn't badly hurt. My back was wrenched a little bit, and my legs are bruised and kind of sore. But my house wasn't hurt and my family is safe."

Church Is Demolished

The storm demolished the Congregational Church, at least five homes, the building of the International Harvester Company, a stucco filling station and the village bandstand. At least a dozen homes were badly damaged, and one belonging to Dan Dudley, was overturned.

From Ionia the storm skipped 20

Steel Union Will Seek Pay Boosts Despite Setback

Negotiation Deadline Extension Requested

PITTSBURGH, April 23 (AP)—The CIO-United Steel Workers served notice today it will plug for pay boosts despite United States Steel Corporation's avowed attempt to peg living costs by denying wage increases and cutting prices.

The big union's potent wage-policy committee adopted a resolution here renewing a "no-strike" promise but calling on about 600 steel producing and fabricating companies to extend deadlines on current wage negotiations.

Westinghouse Cuts Prices

The United States Steel Corporation, No. 1 steel producer and employer of 225,000, announced yesterday it had refused to grant the union's demand for "a substantial wage increase."

Instead, the corporation disclosed, it was cutting prices to the tune of $25,000,000 a year, in an attempt to promote a trend toward lower living costs. Westinghouse Electric Corporation then announced it was reducing prices approximately $3,125,000 a year. General Electric Company previously announced price cuts.

A hint that other steel companies

Doctors Believe They Can Repair Reuther's Arm

Mystery Witness Enters Manhunt

DETROIT, April 23 (AP) — Walter P. Reuther received the welcome news today that his shattered right arm may be repaired.

The president of the CIO United Auto Workers was shot down Tuesday night by an unknown gunman. His arm nearly was ripped from his body.

While doctors compared notes on Reuther's progress, a mystery witness—a Mr. X—entered the police manhunt for the would-be killer.

He was brought to police headquarters in greatest secrecy in the midst of routine questioning of Reuther's political foes within the big union.

"Mr. X" Is "Respectable"

Downtown, where police are conducting one of Detroit's greatest manhunts, Prosecutor James N. McNally refused to identify his mystery witness except to say that he was the father of six children and "respectable."

McNally said the tipster, whom he referred to as "Mr. X", gave some "valuable information."

According to the prosecutor, the witness told police he overheard Nelson Davis, a self-admitted Communist, state that he knew who tried to kill Reuther.

Davis denied making any such remark. No charge was placed against

BRIDAL SHOWER ON BUS-- Detroit Street Railway Bus Driver Parker Warford pours coffee for Bride-To-Be Jean Welch, 18, on the occasion of a party held for Miss Welch in a bus by fellow commuters. A group of 16 regular commuters bedecked the vehicle with crepe paper and balloons and served refreshments as the bus rolled along its route toward downtown Detroit. The DSR management gave its okay to the shower.

Judge Defers Any Further Penalty For John L. Lewis

Coal Production Is Almost Normal

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP) — Federal Court decided today against any further punishment at this time for John L. Lewis and his miners for contempt. Coal production spurted meanwhile to almost normal for the first time in six weeks.

Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, the stern judge who twice has slapped big fines on Lewis and the United Mine Workers for striking in defiance of a court order, commented that:

"The court is more than happy to know that the normal situation is being restored."

He postponed indefinitely any fine or prison sentence for civil contempt of court. Three days ago he fined Lewis $20,000 and the UMW $1,400,000 for criminal contempt.

This meant the miners still were on their "good behavior" and could be penalized for another walkout. They are still under a court injunction to keep digging coal.

Goldsborough granted the government's request for a Taft-Hartley Act injunction on Wednesday, restraining the union and its officers from striking during an indefinite period.

The Taft-Hartley Act, which Lewis has fought tooth and nail, calls for an 80-day cooling off period under such an injunction against major walkouts.

If the miners continue to stream back to work as they have been doing since Tuesday night, normal output should be achieved next Monday, in the opinion of government attorneys. Lewis sent out a frank plea to the miners Tuesday to get on the job immediately. That was after the fines were imposed by Goldsborough, but while there was a still a threat of jail and stiffer fines to be meted out today.

The pension dispute which touched off the strike March 15 is by no means settled. Lewis has called a meeting of the trustees Monday. The others are Ezra Van Horn, Cleveland, for the operators, and Sen. Bridges (R-NH), the neutral member. Bridges and Lewis made a compromise settlement April 12 on the basis of which the UMW chief said the pension dispute was over. Van Horn has asked a court injunction against the Bridges-Lewis plan.

Marshall Leaves Bogota For U.S.A.

Says That Events Demand His Return

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 23. (AP) —Secretary of State George C. Marshall flew home tonight from the Pan American Conference.

He left the afternoon session of the conference after telling fellow delegates that important events demanded his return to Washington. United States Ambassador Willard Beaulac and several members of the United States delegation to the conference accompanied Marshall to the airport to see him off.

Prospects for an early adjournment of the conference appeared bright as the delegates tackled the few remaining major items on the agenda.

Although the conference is likely to continue another week, Marshall explained he had stayed in Bogota longer than he had expected because "I felt due to the critical situation here it was necessary that I remain until the most fundamental issues were agreed upon."

Marshall wished the delegates of the other American republics and their people a "steady increase in their fortunes." He was vigorously applauded as he bid farewell in Spanish.

Aides said he probably would stop briefly in Panama but is expected to arrive in Washington early tomorrow. He was accompanied by Brig. Gen. Marshall S. Carter, a special assistant.

Problems Demand Attention

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall's unexpected departure from the Bogota conference was reported to be prompted by an accumulation of problems demanding his attention in Washington rather than by any particular crisis in world affairs.

Perhaps the most urgent problem of foreign policy which might require early action by Marshall is the Palestine situation.

Senate Commerce Group Will Probe RCA's Operations

Inquiry May Center On FM And Television

WASHINGTON, April 23. — (AP) — The Senate Commerce Committee will open an intensive investigation of operations of the Radio Corporation of America next week, Acting Chairman Tobey (R-NH) announced late today.

Reporters asked the basis for the inquiry. Tobey replied:

"Collusion and the efforts of large interests to hamstring progress in radio circles.

From Tobey's preliminary statements, it appeared that the investigation would center on RCA's attitude toward frequency modulation (FM) broadcasting and television. The exact date of the hearing is to be announced later.

Johnson Bill Hearings End

The impending investigation was announced as the committee ended open hearings on a bill by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) which would prohibit super-power standard broadcasting stations.

Tobel, who has been presiding during the illness of Chairman White R-Me), laid the groundwork for the RCA investigation by calling Raymond Guy, National Broadcasting Company engineer, back to the witness stand.

Tobey repeated to Guy a charge he has made more than once during the hearings on the Johnson Bill: That RCA and NBC have tried to "hamstring" the development of static-free FM broadcasting in the United States.

Guy Denies Charge

Guy vigorously denied the charge. Tobey reiterated that RCA had tried to "kill off" FM, and said he would present documentary evidence to bear his statement.

Tobey called on Dr. Edwin H. Armstrong, whom he described as the inventor of FM, to back him up. Armstrong, testifying under oath, said Tobey's statements were true, "from my own personal knowledge and experience."

Five Are Saved After Ditching Bomber At Sea

QUONSET, R. I., April 23 (AP) —A Navy twin-engine medium bomber carrying five men was ditched at sea tonight 104 miles southsoutheast of this naval air station.

Officers said the S.S. Washington bound for New York picked up the survivors at 10 p. m. (E.S.T.)

Because of faulty radio communication with the ship, the station was unable to learn any further details.

MacFadden Is Wed Despite Outburst By 'Goat Woman'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 23—(AP) Bernarr MacFadden, 79-year-old physical culturist, and vivacious, blonde Mrs. Jonnie Lee, 42, New York, were married today despite an outburst in the church during the ceremony by a crusader known only as "the goat woman."

"The goat woman," who leads a goat through downtown areas while she crusades against tobacco, suddenly appeared in the south cloister of the Miami Beach Community Church on Lincoln Road while MacFadden and Mrs. Lee were making their vows before a flower-decked altar.

She ran behind the altar and shouted: "This is against the Holy Word. It is illegal."

Three ushers, all bellboys from the MacFadden-Deauville Hotel, raced after her, chased her to the north cloister and ejected her from the church. The goat usually with her was absent this time.

As this went on, MacFadden answered Rev. John Yenches in clear, firm tones, but the excitement caused him to forget to kiss his bride as the ceremony ended. Rev. Yenches reminded him that the kiss was a part of the ceremony, and MacFadden kissed his bride.

He wore a grey suit, and Mrs. MacFadden—his third wife—was clad in sculptured gown of magnolia crepe decorated with tiny crystal beads and molded to the body.

Five hundred persons were inside the church, a few in beach togs and a very few in shorts. One thousand more were crowded outside the edifice awaiting a glimpse of the bride and groom, whom they showered with rice.

Wright Plane Will Be Placed In Smithsonian

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The Wright brothers' Kitty Hawk, the first airplane to fly, will be placed in the Smithsonian Institution when it is returned from England.

This was made known officially today in a statement issued jointly by the Smithsonian, the executors of the Orville Wright estate and the Science Museum of South Kensington, London.

Orville Wright, who died January 30, sent the plane to England in 1928 because of a dispute with the Smithsonian over credit for designing the first flyable craft. He asked for its return in 1943.

Four Killed When Army Plane Crashes In Swamp

CANFIELD, Ark., April 23. (AP)—Four Army airmen were killed today when a two-engined Army plane crashed near here in the desolate Bayou Bodcaw swamp.

Arkansas state police at Hope, 40 miles north of here, said the craft was a B-25 from Barksdale Field, La.

W. E. Copeland, Canfield merchant, said the plane crashed after dropping a motor and a wing more than a quarter-mile away. The plane did not burn. One of the bodies had a staff sergeant's insignia. The other three were in coveralls.

"Cruel" To Arline

Topping Is Divorced; Will Wed Lana Turner Monday

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, April 23 (INS)—Lana Turner and Henry J. (Bob) Topping are getting married Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of William R. Wilkerson, publisher of the Hollywood Reporter.

This was made possible by the divorce which Arline Judge was granted today in the Superior Court at Bridgeport, Conn.

Topping has been in Palm Springs with his fiancee.

The reason the Turner - Topping marriage can take place Monday is because the three-day wait set up by Connecticut laws does not affect marriages performed in California.

Arline Judge

A Los Angeles judge will perform the ceremony. William Wilkerson will act as best man, and the ceremony will be performed in the presence of a dozen people. However, at 5 p. m. a large reception will be given to all their friends.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 23 (AP)—Actress Arline Judge today was granted a divorce from Sportsman Bob Topping, her fifth husband, $100,000 alimony in a lump sum and $15,000 counsel fees. She was in court; Topping was not.

Prior to announcement of the award she told Judge John H. King in Superior Court that Topping, Greenwich heir to a tinplate fortune, was insanely jealous, struck her, called her vile names and twice threatened to shoot her.

Hitchcock Cites Importance Of Public Relations

Addresses Meeting On Smoke Control

Importance of public relations in smoke control programs was stressed by George M. Hitchcock, city smoke abatement engineer, at a meeting and banquet sponsored by the Washington Terminal Smoke Committee in the Continental Hotel, Washington, D. C., this week.

Four other smoke abatement engineers from two states and the District of Columbia attended the meeting, along with representatives of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroads, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, the Southern Railway and the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad.

Cumberland division of the B. and O. was represented by F. A. Murphy, road foreman of engines; and W. D. Luzier and Roy O. Taylor, instructors in fuel economy.

Outlining Cumberland's smoke control ordinance, Hitchcock said it is directed at violators themselves rather than the railroad companies.

"If the regulations are to be successful, they must be carried out," he stated, pointing out the importance of the manpower factor in making use of mechanical smoke control devices.

H. K. Kugel, smoke abatement engineer in the District of Columbia, also gave a talk. Other smoke engineers were present from Jersey City, N. J., and Alexandria and Richmond, Va.

G. B. Curtis, superintendent of the Washington Terminal Company, was acting chairman. Other officers in charge were M. G. Stewart, road foreman of engines for the Washington Terminal Company; W. E. Sample, B. and O. superintendent of fuel conservation; and P. K. Partee, superintendent of the B. and O.'s Washington Division.

The 60 railroad officials discussed current smoke violations and reported on the disposition of violation cases. The recent mine walkout was cited as affecting smoke emission from locomotives because of the lower quality of coal which had to be used during that period.

The Pennsylvania Railroad presented a movie on "Transportation." The group viewed a model of the Washington terminal being constructed by the Metropolitan Society of Model Engineers at a cost of $25,000. Upon its completion in July, 1949, the model will be placed on display in Union Station.

Cancer Drive Lags As Deadline Nears

With only $1,731.51 received at the Allegany County headquarters, the current drive to obtain funds in the American Cancer Society will fail to meet its quota of $11,500 unless Allegany countians respond more generously, it was revealed last night.

Only seven more days remain in the drive, according to William A. Gunter, chairman, and much could be accomplished in that time to raise the necessary funds.

Throughout Maryland, all ministers, priests and rabbis have been asked to observe Saturday and Sunday as Cancer Sabbath and Cancer Sunday.

Present figures on returns for the entire state show that $57,000 has been contributed so far during the month's drive.

Westminster Singers To Appear In County

The Westminster Seminary Singers from Westminster, Md., will make five appearances in Allegany County on Monday and Tuesday, it was revealed Friday. J. Edgar Moyer is the director.

Four appearances are scheduled for Tuesday, the first of which will be in Frostburg State Teachers College at 9 a. m. followed by a 10:45 concert at Allegany High School. A radio broadcast will be presented at 1:15 o'clock with the concluding appearance at 7:30 o'clock in Grace Methodist Church.

One member of the group hails from this area; he is C. Fred Crowe, Ellerslie, first tenor.

Glen W. Davis, Route 5, forfeited 6.45 for reckless driving in LaVale yesterday, and Owen Zigler, Ellerslie, was fined $1.75 for using improper tags April 13. Trooper Milton G. Hart preferred charges.

Church Will Burn Mortgage Sunday

A mortgage burning ceremony will be held at the First Brethren Church, Fourth and Seymour Streets, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The ceremony will mark the retirement of the debt on the church building.

Rev. E. M. Riddle, Ashland, Ohio, executive secretary of the Missionary Board of the Brethren Church, will speak during this service. A basket dinner will follow.

During the afternoon, C. U. Messler, Union Bridge, president of the Mission Board, Southeastern District, will be the speaker. Rev. Isaac Bowman, D. D., Howe, Ind., will be the guest speaker at the 7:45 service. Special music by the Cresaptown Male Quartet, the Pinto Mennonite Chorus and others will be heard.

There are more kinds of fragrant flowers which open at night than in the daytime.

Repairing Of Streets Is Planned For City

Edgar Reynolds, commissioner of streets, announced Friday that concentrated effort is being made to get the city streets, especially those in outlying sections, repaired at the earliest possible time.

Three main projects, one of which will be completed Monday, are on the Street Department's agenda. Work on cutting back of the curb and making the street radius larger at the corner of Mechanic and Market is almost completed, while widening of Baltimore Avenue and the radius of the intersections of Baltimore and Park Streets will be started within the next few weeks, Reynolds said.

Hitchcock Cites Importance Of Public Relations

Addresses Meeting On Smoke Control

Importance of public relations in smoke control programs was stressed by George M. Hitchcock, city smoke abatement engineer, at a meeting and banquet sponsored by the Washington Terminal Smoke Committee in the Continental Hotel, Washington, D. C., this week.

Four other smoke abatement engineers from two states and the District of Columbia attended the meeting, along with representatives of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroads, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, the Southern Railway and the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad.

Cumberland division of the B. and O. was represented by F. A. Murphy, road foreman of engines; and W. D. Luzier and Roy O. Taylor, instructors in fuel economy.

Outlining Cumberland's smoke control ordinance, Hitchcock said it is directed at violators themselves rather than the railroad companies.

"If the regulations are to be successful, they must be carried out," he stated, pointing out the importance of the manpower factor in making use of mechanical smoke control devices.

H. K. Kugel, smoke abatement engineer in the District of Columbia, also gave a talk. Other smoke engineers were present from Jersey City, N. J., and Alexandria and Richmond, Va.

G. B. Curtis, superintendent of the Washington Terminal Company, was acting chairman. Other officers in charge were M. G. Stewart, road foreman of engines for the Washington Terminal Company; W. E. Sample, B. and O. superintendent of fuel conservation; and P. K. Partee, superintendent of the B. and O.'s Washington Division.

The 60 railroad officials discussed current smoke violations and reported on the disposition of violation cases. The recent mine walkout was cited as affecting smoke emission from locomotives because of the lower quality of coal which had to be used during that period.

The Pennsylvania Railroad presented a movie on "Transportation." The group viewed a model of the Washington terminal being constructed by the Metropolitan Society of Model Engineers at a cost of $25,000. Upon its completion in July, 1949, the model will be placed on display in Union Station.

Cancer Drive Lags As Deadline Nears

With only $1,731.51 received at the Allegany County headquarters, the current drive to obtain funds in the American Cancer Society will fail to meet its quota of $11,500 unless Allegany countians respond more generously, it was revealed last night.

Only seven more days remain in the drive, according to William A. Gunter, chairman, and much could be accomplished in that time to raise the necessary funds.

Throughout Maryland, all ministers, priests and rabbis have been asked to observe Saturday and Sunday as Cancer Sabbath and Cancer Sunday.

Present figures on returns for the entire state show that $57,000 has been contributed so far during the month's drive.

Westminster Singers To Appear In County

The Westminster Seminary Singers from Westminster, Md., will make five appearances in Allegany County on Monday and Tuesday, it was revealed Friday. J. Edgar Moyer is the director.

The singers' first concert will be held Monday night at 8 o'clock in Ellerslie Methodist Church.

Four appearances are scheduled for Tuesday, the first of which will be in Frostburg State Teachers College at 9 a. m. followed by a 10:45 concert at Allegany High School. A radio broadcast will be presented at 1:15 o'clock with the concluding appearance at 7:30 o'clock in Grace Methodist Church.

Motorist Forfeits Bond Of $26.45

Charged with reckless driving on Route 40 at LaVale, John Carroll Miller, Route 1, this city, forfeited $26.45 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court after being arrested earlier in the morning.

Another motorist, David Enoch Plummer, 123 Fifth Street, forfeited $6.45 for passing on a curve in the Narrows April 19. Both were arrested by State Trooper William McElfish.

Glen W. Davis, Route 5, forfeited 6.45 for reckless driving in LaVale yesterday, and Owen Zigler, Ellerslie, was fined $1.75 for using improper tags April 13. Trooper Milton G. Hart preferred charges.

Church Will Burn Mortgage Sunday

A mortgage burning ceremony will be held at the First Brethren Church, Fourth and Seymour Streets, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The ceremony will mark the retirement of the debt on the church building.

Rev. E. M. Riddle, Ashland, Ohio, executive secretary of the Missionary Board of the Brethren Church, will speak during this service. A basket dinner will follow.

During the afternoon, C. U. Messler, Union Bridge, president of the Mission Board, Southeastern District, will be the speaker. Rev. Isaac Bowman, D. D., Howe, Ind., will be the guest speaker at the 7:45 service. Special music by the Cresaptown Male Quartet, the Pinto Mennonite Chorus and others will be heard.

There are more kinds of fragrant flowers which open at night than in the daytime.

Repairing Of Streets Is Planned For City

Edgar Reynolds, commissioner of streets, announced Friday that concentrated effort is being made to get the city streets, especially those in outlying sections, repaired at the earliest possible time.

Three main projects, one of which will be completed Monday, are on the Street Department's agenda. Work on cutting back of the curb and making the street radius larger at the corner of Mechanic and Market is almost completed, while widening of Baltimore Avenue and the radius of the intersections of Baltimore and Park Streets will be started within the next few weeks, Reynolds said.

Federal Inspectors Report On Conditions In Two County Mines

A federal coal mine inspector endorsed two dozen recent safety advances in the Hoffa No. 4 Mine at Pekin, and recommended further ventilating precautions and other safeguards in a report released yesterday by the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior.

Operated by the A. P. Hoffa Coal Company, the mine employed 56 men and had an average output of 160 tons daily when Inspector W. D. Baldwin reinspected it in March.

Since the previous inspection, great improvements had been made in ventilation, crosscuts were made at approved intervals, abandoned workings were posted to warn against unauthorized entrance, preshift examinations were made before the first shift entered the mine, and safety devices were provided for the ventilating fan, Inspector Baldwin reported. He also proposed better quality air at one working face, air-lock doors at one place, and offset installation and explosion doors for the ventilating fan.

Recent Improvements

Recent beneficial changes also include warning signs at the explosives-storage magazine, individual non-conductive containers for carrying explosives, long enough blasting cables, incombustible material for stemming, discontinuance of getting on and off moving cars and coupling them by hand without a coupling hook, several electrical safeguards, added fire protection and first-aid supplies, and the posting of escapeway-direction signs.

A systematic timbering method was being followed in the mine, the inspector reported. Due to the heavy, broken roof conditions, the timbering along haulage ways and in working places required unusual attention and replacements of cross bars. Some broken cross bars needed to be replaced, he said. All roof was tested frequently.

Other recommendations called for bans on smoking in the mines and the use of open-flame lamps, unobstructed clearance along haulage roads, more shelter holes, floor insulation at shop control switches, underground telephone service, several mechanical safeguards, wearing of protective footwear by all employees, safety goggles for eye-hazardous work, and a satisfactory check-in-and-out system.

Suggests No Smoking

Another report issued yesterday by the Bureau of Mines recommended a better ventilating system for the No. 2 mine of Georges Creek Coal Company, Inc. At the time of reinspection of the mine in March by P. M. Shay, 14 men were employed at the mine, and output averaged 70 tons of coal daily.

Inspector Shay reported that all places were driven singly without crosscuts, and the air was sluggish in all working places. He advocated driving crosscuts at intervals not exceeding 105 feet to intersect an adjacent opening, circulating enough air at the working faces to remove smoke from blasting and any harmful gases, and taking air measurements at least once each week. Preshift and weekly examinations for gas and other hazards were made, the inspector said.

As further safety aids, Inspector Shay proposed using incombustible material for stemming boreholes, posting an up-to-date mine map in an accessible place, providing at least two separate surface openings, wearing approved-type goggles for eye-hazardous work, and the banning of open-flame lamps for portable underground illumination and of smoking in the mine.

Only one between-inspection improvement was reported. Defective and broken timbers near the drift portal had been replaced.

Advice To The Lovelorn

He Makes Love To Her When They're Alone, Ignores Her At Other Times

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 31 years old and in every one's estimation a very attractive woman despite the fact that I have a physical defect which is quite noticeable.

I am in love with a man who is five years my junior. When he and I are alone, he makes violent love to me but when his friends are around, he completely ignores me. Do you think he is really in love with me but is shy in front of his friends because he had a previous broken marriage, or do you think he has no real feeling for me and is just handing me a line?

"CONFUSED CARRIE"

Dear "Confused Carrie":

I do not have much faith in the sincerity of any man who makes love to a girl when they are alone and ignores her at all other times. Anyone who has genuine feeling for another person would never treat her this way. If this young man were really interested in you, he would be anxious to have you know it under any circumstances. You will only be deluding yourself if you take him seriously.

Trumped-Up Excuses

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 18 years old and have been going faithfully with a boy my own age for almost three years. He is a wonderful person and I am still very fond of him but I don't love him. I want to go out with other fellows while I am still in college.

How can I explain to my boy friend in a kind way how I feel. The last thing on earth I would want to do would be to hurt him.

"C.B."

Dear "C.B.:"

In a situation of this sort, it is quite impossible for somebody not to get hurt. Many people, when they want to break off with someone, make the mistake of inventing some story which they think will soften the blow, just because they feel as you do—they don't want to hurt the other person.

Since the person who still cares will inevitably be badly wounded anyhow, it is much better to tell the truth. It will hurt, but hardly as much as a trumped-up excuse, which can usually be seen through.

Holy Name Men Will Attend Convention

Arrangements are being made here for a large Western Maryland delegation at the annual convention of the Baltimore section of the Holy Name Society in Baltimore Sunday.

Officials said they hope to have at least 74 representatives from the some 12,000 members of the society in this area.

Buses will leave St. Patrick's Church Sunday at 8 a. m. D.S.T., and will arrive in Baltimore at 12:30 p. m.; the return bus will leave there at 5:30 p. m. and arrive here at 10 p. m. Arrangements for transportation may be made by calling 807.

The business session will begin at 2:30 p. m. and will mark the first appearance before the group of Archbishop Francis P. Keough.

Advisory Group Will Study Store Hours

The advisory committee of the Mercantile Bureau of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will present a report May 11 on procedure to be followed in adjusting store hours here.

Harold W. Smith, secretary of the chamber, said the group, at a meeting in Central YMCA discussed the advisability of evening hours without increasing the total store hours.

Some felt, Smith said, that competition from surrounding areas, and that the convenience for shoppers who could not avail themselves of the regular store periods, warranted evening hours.

Federal Inspectors Report On Conditions In Two County Mines

A federal coal mine inspector endorsed two dozen recent safety advances in the Hoffa No. 4 Mine at Pekin, and recommended further ventilating precautions and other safeguards in a report released yesterday by the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior.

Operated by the A. P. Hoffa Coal Company, the mine employed 56 men and had an average output of 160 tons daily when Inspector W. D. Baldwin reinspected it in March.

Since the previous inspection, great improvements had been made in ventilation, crosscuts were made at approved intervals, abandoned workings were posted to warn against unauthorized entrance, preshift examinations were made before the first shift entered the mine, and safety devices were provided for the ventilating fan, Inspector Baldwin reported. He also proposed better quality air at one working face, air-lock doors at one place, and offset installation and explosion doors for the ventilating fan.

Recent Improvements

Recent beneficial changes also include warning signs at the explosives-storage magazine, individual non-conductive containers for carrying explosives, long enough blasting cables, incombustible material for stemming, discontinuance of getting on and off moving cars and coupling them by hand without a coupling hook, several electrical safeguards, added fire protection and first-aid supplies, and the posting of escapeway-direction signs.

A systematic timbering method was being followed in the mine, the inspector reported. Due to the heavy, broken roof conditions, the timbering along haulage ways and in working places required unusual attention and replacements of cross bars. Some broken cross bars needed to be replaced, he said. All roof was tested frequently.

Other recommendations called for bans on smoking in the mines and the use of open-flame lamps, unobstructed clearance along haulage roads, more shelter holes, floor insulation at shop control switches, underground telephone service, several mechanical safeguards, wearing of protective footwear by all employees, safety goggles for eye-hazardous work, and a satisfactory check-in-and-out system.

Suggests No Smoking

Another report issued yesterday by the Bureau of Mines recommended a better ventilating system for the No. 2 mine of Georges Creek Coal Company, Inc. At the time of reinspection of the mine in March by P. M. Shay, 14 men were employed at the mine, and output averaged 70 tons of coal daily.

Inspector Shay reported that all places were driven singly without crosscuts, and the air was sluggish in all working places. He advocated driving crosscuts at intervals not exceeding 105 feet to intersect an adjacent opening, circulating enough air at the working faces to remove smoke from blasting and any harmful gases, and taking air measurements at least once each week. Preshift and weekly examinations for gas and other hazards were made, the inspector said.

As further safety aids, Inspector Shay proposed using incombustible material for stemming boreholes, posting an up-to-date mine map in an accessible place, providing at least two separate surface openings, wearing approved-type goggles for eye-hazardous work, and the banning of open-flame lamps for portable underground illumination and of smoking in the mine.

Only one between-inspection improvement was reported. Defective and broken timbers near the drift portal had been replaced.

Advice To The Lovelorn

He Makes Love To Her When They're Alone, Ignores Her At Other Times

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 31 years old and in every one's estimation a very attractive woman despite the fact that I have a physical defect which is quite noticeable.

I am in love with a man who is five years my junior. When he and I are alone, he makes violent love to me but when his friends are around, he completely ignores me. Do you think he is really in love with me but is shy in front of his friends because he had a previous broken marriage, or do you think he has no real feeling for me and is just handing me a line?

"CONFUSED CARRIE"

Dear "Confused Carrie":

I do not have much faith in the sincerity of any man who makes love to a girl when they are alone and ignores her at all other times. Anyone who has genuine feeling for another person would never treat her this way. If this young man were really interested in you, he would be anxious to have you know it under any circumstances. You will only be deluding yourself if you take him seriously.

Trumped-Up Excuses

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 18 years old and have been going faithfully with a boy my own age for almost three years. He is a wonderful person and I am still very fond of him but I don't love him. I want to go out with other fellows while I am still in college.

How can I explain to my boy friend in a kind way how I feel. The last thing on earth I would want to do would be to hurt him.

"C.B."

Dear "C.B.:"

In a situation of this sort, it is quite impossible for somebody not to get hurt. Many people, when they want to break off with someone, make the mistake of inventing some story which they think will soften the blow, just because they feel as you do—they don't want to hurt the other person.

Since the person who still cares will inevitably be badly wounded anyhow, it is much better to tell the truth. It will hurt, but hardly as much as a trumped-up excuse, which can usually be seen through.

Holy Name Men Will Attend Convention

Arrangements are being made here for a large Western Maryland delegation at the annual convention of the Baltimore section of the Holy Name Society in Baltimore Sunday.

Officials said they hope to have at least 74 representatives from the some 12,000 members of the society in this area.

Buses will leave St. Patrick's Church Sunday at 8 a. m. D.S.T., and will arrive in Baltimore at 12:30 p. m.; the return bus will leave there at 5:30 p. m. and arrive here at 10 p. m. Arrangements for transportation may be made by calling 807.

The business session will begin at 2:30 p. m. and will mark the first appearance before the group of Archbishop Francis P. Keough.

Advisory Group Will Study Store Hours

The advisory committee of the Mercantile Bureau of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will present a report May 11 on procedure to be followed in adjusting store hours here.

Harold W. Smith, secretary of the chamber, said the group, at a meeting in Central YMCA discussed the advisability of evening hours without increasing the total store hours.

Some felt, Smith said, that competition from surrounding areas, and that the convenience for shoppers who could not avail themselves of the regular store periods, warranted evening hours.

Taxpayers Welcome Reduction In Tax Rate

Needless to say, taxpayers of Allegany county will welcome the news that the price they will have to pay on each $100 of assessable property to keep the county government functioning during the next fifteen months has been reduced five cents from the rate they were charged on the 1947 tax bills. Their gratification is increased when it is considered that the reduction comes in the midst of an inflationary period.

It is estimated that $2,619,800.00 will be required to run the county affairs during the fifteen month period. Real estate and other assessed properties will provide $1,670,000 of that amount. The balance, or $949,800.00, will come from the state through redistribution of certain taxes to counties and municipalities under the terms of the Sherbow Plan, and licenses and other fees.

Too, under the levy just approved by the county commissioners, the cost of operating county affairs will not be as great as during the past fiscal year of twelve months. This is hard to believe in face of the fact that costs for most everything are probably at their highest level in many years, and there are no immediate indications that they will be any lower in the near future. It should not be accomplished by reducing any of the fixed services the county has been rendering, and we do not anticipate any such thing.

Several things have made possible this reduction of the tax rate. There was a surplus of $494,400.00 which is being used. Then, of course, there are the taxes from the state. And, last, but by no means least, the assessed property values have, under the schedule of reassessing every five years, passed the $100,000,000 mark.

While some individual property owners had their assessments slightly increased, much of it was realized when exemptions from taxation on properties of three major industries in the county were outlawed. The court ruling on this issue made possible the carrying of the assessed property values to the highest peak in the county's history. And, it brought to the people of Allegany county a source of revenue which had been denied them for too long a time.

Not Only Principle At Stake In Oleo Fight

The fight for repeal of the Federal tax on margarine not only involves a principle but, as Rep. J. Glenn Beall realizes, judging by word he sent to the Independent Retail Food Association of Western Maryland a few days ago, that he intended voting for the bill, it will save housewives some of their food budget money.

Of course, Rep. Beall does not overlook the principle of whether taxes should be used to discriminate between two domestic products and force unfair competition on the open market.

For that reason the idea of compromise doesn't fit the picture. Representatives who are working for repeal of the tax are reported to have rejected a compromise which would suspend the tax for a year. They acted rightly. A suspension of the tax is not the answer. It doesn't settle the question of the principle.

Margarine has been proved to be good, wholesome food. Its only fault is that it competes with butter, and the dairy interests have been able to put the tax across. That is rank injustice, imposing a penalty on the consumer, especially at a time of high prices. The quicker the tax is repealed the better.

General De Gaulle's "Call" And His Timing To Make It

Noting General De Gaulle's call for a national election in France reminds us that timing is as important to a political leader as it is to a Babe Ruth or a Joe Louis. But it is yet to be proved that Charles de Gaulle has the timing sense of those redoubtable athletes.

De Gaulle timed his long-awaited Sunday announcement with one eye on Premier Schuman's plan for a sweeping reorganization of French defenses, and the other on the Italian election, which everybody predicted would defeat the Communists. To "le grand Charlie "it may have seemed a case of declaring himself now or never. Should the Communist menace decline in Western Europe, the argument for one-party rule under De Gaulle would lose some of its force.

When De Gaulle says that France needs political harmony to fight Communism he is eternally right. But in his Marseille announcement he did not admit the known fact that there is already a working arrangement between his Rally and the moderate coalition under quiet, hard-working Premier Schuman. De Gaulle has the Assembly votes to oust Schuman at any time, but he has chosen not to oppose the government on vital issues. On the other hand, the Schuman followers have recognized the latest power of De Gaulle and have privately agreed that an immediate Communist threat would bring the General to the fore, where Schuman would support him.

What Schuman will not grant is that the time has come for one-party or one-man rule in France. It is quite evident that the Communists have suffered a severe trouncing at the polls, even in Red strongholds like Milan and Bologna. As for France, she now has the guarantee of Marshall Plan aid and is a member of the growing western democratic union.

It would be folly to suppose that the Russo-Communist threat to Western Europe has vanished or is even seriously diminished. But neither has it suddenly been magnified in a way to justify the critical plebiscite that De Gaulle demands.

Hope Vs Fear

Six executives of Russian factories have been sent to prison for turning out unsatisfactory products, according to Soviet newspapers. That shows how far a government must go when it tries to run everything.

Over here, the people decide what's good and what's bad. If they don't like a product, they don't buy it, and the maker soon goes out of business. Less direct, perhaps. Less "efficient." But far more satisfactory.

Our system holds out the hope of reward to those who do good work; theirs threatens punishment to those who don't.

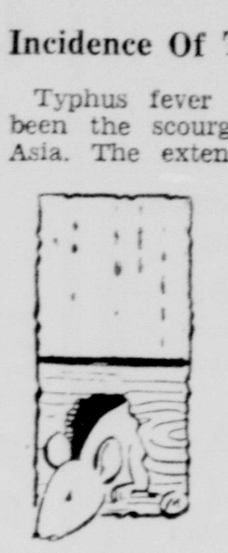
HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Incidence Of Typhus



Typhus fever for centuries has been the scourge of Europe and Asia. The extent of the problem can be appreciated when we realize that in Russia from 1919 to 1921, there were ten million victims and four million deaths.

The disease was once a menace to this country, particularly when immigration was at its height. come two thousand cases are still encountered here each year. But it is the endemic variety which is mild and hardly comparable to the epidemic form on the continent. This does not mean that the European type cannot develop in America. Theirs is caused by the bite of the body louse; ours, by the infected rat flea. Herein lies the threat and if we lower our standards and allow the "cootie" to run wild, we might find ourselves in a more serious predicament.

We can readily understand why epidemic typhus was so prevalent in Europe. It is part and parcel of that awful foursome—war, famine, disease, and death. In history it has adhered to the pattern of plague except that plague follows the trade routes whereas typhus is partial to armies. In our civil war, the malady was not a major factor and did far less damage than starvation, exhaustion, exposure, typhoid, scurvy, dysentery, and malaria. The American variety is observed most commonly in the South Atlantic states and along the Gulf coast. Sporadic outbreaks occur from time to time especially among food handlers. DDT and rat control have helped to eliminate the causative agents.

The early symptoms resemble influenza with fever, chills, headache, weakness, and malaise. The temperature remains elevated for two weeks and then subsides. During the third to seventh day, a pinkish rash appears on the chest, back, and abdomen which becomes darker each day until it is purplish. Pneumonia and delirium are noted occasionally. The word typhus means "stupor" but this symptom is more likely to occur in the European variety.

Diagnosis is made by means of blood tests. A preventive vaccine is recommended for those who must live or travel in areas where the ailment is prevalent. The substance does not protect every one who is vaccinated but helps considerably in modifying symptoms should the disease develop.

More advancements in the treatment of this disorder have been made during the past decade than ever before in the history of the infection. It can now be treated with para-aminobenzoic acid. A new drug, chloromycetin, has had a brilliant laboratory career in eradicating the causative organisms and has been successful also in the treatment of a related disease, Rocky mountain spotted fever. If this is true it means that another group of diseases has been conquered.

TRANSFUSION REACTION

O.W.B. writes: A friend of mine was operated on and needed blood. I was the same type (O) and gave some of mine for her. After the transfusion her skin broke out in a rash. I have never been ill so cannot understand why my blood could cause this trouble. Can you advise?

REPLY

I doubt if the transfusion was responsible for the skin eruption because when the patient reacts to this procedure, the symptoms are of a different nature. Furthermore, if the hospital has a blood bank your donation probably went into it and was not given directly to your friend. I would be more inclined to blame one of the medicines she undoubtedly was taking during her period of hospitalization.

Psittacosis

M.P. writes: Is there such a thing as parrot fever? A friend told me that people can catch this sickness from a parrot.

REPLY

Yes. The disease is due to a virus that attacks the bird and is passed to human beings. It produces pneumonia, indistinguishable from other virus types, except by special blood studies.

Jittery

S. B. writes: Is there any help for one who has a condition due to the autonomic nervous system? Examination shows the woman to be in perfect condition physically.

Reply

Yes. Individuals who were born with an overactive nervous system should reduce their responsibilities and obligations to a level where they will not be overtaxed. Otherwise strain leads to fatigue and anxiety which in turn stimulate the nerves leading to the heart, stomach, blood vessels, and other organs. If a decreased schedule does not help, the system can be toned down with sedatives.

HEART DISTURBANCE

Mrs. R. writes: What is congestion of the heart?

Reply

In the failing heart, as the output of blood lessens, the incoming flow is reduced. Thus considerable back pressure and congestion are created which is most noticeable in the lungs, liver, and lower extremities.

EITHER

Mrs. X. writes: If one ovary has been removed is it possible to have children of both sexes?

Reply

Should pregnancy occur, the child may be either sex. There is nothing to the theory that the ova from one ovary will produce only boys and those from the other only girls.

Italian Election Was People-To-People Victory; Million Extra Letters A Week To Italy; Truman Regrets He Missed Spanish-American War

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 23—One of the great things about the Italian election was that, in more ways than one, it was a people-to-people victory.

While the Moscow radio was prating about the proletariat, the American people were in close, actual touch with the Italian people. And it was this contact, by millions of letters, by telegrams and by relief which tipped the scale in the Italian election.

When this columnist traveled through Italy on the Friendship Train last Christmas, a large number of the cities were governed by Communist mayors. The deGasperi Government hung on by a precarious margin. If an election had been held then, most observers agreed the Communists would have won.

The Friendship Train, arriving at this particular time, helped make people realize who their real friends were. The State Department's adroit moves in regard to Trieste and in getting the American fleet out of Italian waters, took the wind out of Communist propaganda. Ambassador Dunn's tireless efforts in publicizing the arrival of U. S. food shipments helped turn the tide.

And on top of all this came the friendship letter-writing campaign to the people of Italy. Suggested from Rome last December by this columnist, the campaign was pushed by Generoso Pope in his Italian-American newspaper, Il Progresso. Day after day he pounded home the idea. Then it was taken up by others, until a million extra letters a week cleared the New York Post Office for Italy.

Everybody Wrote To Italy

All sorts of people helped. Out in Toledo, Mayor Mike diSalle formed a committee to encourage friendship letters. Unpublicized in the same city, Marion Antonini, a high-school student, worked late every night translating letters, even paying postage from his own pocket. . . . In Philadelphia, Ralph Marlowe, chief interpreter of the Municipal Court, toured Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware drumming up letters to Italy. . . . Citizens of Locust Valley, N. Y., organized "Operation Democracy," which they called the "People's Marshall Plan," and speeded up their plan of aiding the Italian city of Ponte Carvo, destroyed by war. . . . In Schenectady, Pat Truchio helped raise $5,000 to send cables to the Italian people. . . . In Jersey City, Richard Bonomo got up a special message from Italian-Americans addressed to the people of Laurenzana, the town from which they came. . . . In Lansing, Mich., Mrs. Elizabeth Belen boosted the letter-writing campaign. . . . Even in St. Petersburg, Fla., a city distant from the centers of Italian population, the Chamber of Commerce raised money for cables back to Italy. . . . This is just a cross section of what thousands of Americans did in the people-to-people campaign to win the Italian election. The rollcall is too long to call in one column.

War Brides Talk To Italy

Then there was radio. Walter Lemmon, of World Wide Broadcasting, an endowed foundation, turned all his facilities loose on Italy. Mrs. John Lodge, wife of the Connecticut Congressman, devoted most of her time to helping beam these broadcasts. . . . Generoso Pope's station WHOM, New York, gave Italo-Americans a chance to talk to their relatives back home. . . . Some wept, some laughed, all exhorted their friends in Italy to vote for democracy. Crowds lined the street four-abreast, one block long outside Pope's radio station. . . . And station WOV, New York, put on special programs by war brides. The Communists have been telling Italians that war brides in the USA were mistreated, so WOV gave these war brides a chance to tell how they were living happily in America, how well Americans treated them, and how important it was to vote for non-Communist friendship with the USA.

In other words the defeat of Communism in Italy was because a lot of Americans really went out and worked at the job of making Italian democracy live.

Friendship Train Of Books

Congratulations to Joseph Brandt, president of the Henry Holt Publishing Company, for suggesting a Friendship Train of books for Europe. Mr. Brandt proposes that all publishers get together at the end of each year and donate their unsold nonfiction books about America to Europe. Large publishers, says Mr. Brandt, have thousands of unsold books about America gathering dust on the shelves. Why not send them to Europe?

Note—A train of books now may save a boatload of bullets later.

Truman And Spanish War

When GOP Congressman Tom Martin of Iowa introduced Horace Havenner, national commander of the Spanish War Vets, to President Truman the other day, the President recalled his own excitement as a boy when the United States declared war on Spain.

"It was one of the biggest disappointments of my life that I was unable to serve," said Truman. "All my neighbors were going, but I was only 14 at the time and too young."

National commander Havenner, a Des Moines attorney who hails from Marengo, Iowa, in Congressman Martin's district, remarked that the ranks of Spanish War vets were dwindling rapidly. Many of his colleagues, he said, would be attending their last big encampment when the organization celebrates its 50th anniversary in Washington this summer.

"Yes, it's sad to see them passing on," agreed Truman. "Three or four of my neighbors who fought at Manila died recently."

"But there is a happy note in that the people of Cuba, whom we liberated, will always be thankful to the United States," commented his visitor.

"I am sure of it," replied the President. "The independence of Cuba and the Philippines stand out as great illustrations of the role the United States has played and continues to play in recognizing smaller countries and helping them establish themselves."

How Much Of Social Justice Is Moral? Will It Bring Happiness

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

I want to ask two questions about "social justice." How much of it is moral? Will it promote the happiness of mankind?

Let us reduce the first question to simple terms. A robber holds up a rich man who made his money honestly by batting home runs, or by making a good radio. Is the hold-up "social justice"?

Suppose the robber is well-to-do. He is a Robin Hood. What he steals from the rich he gives to the poor. He is a humanitarian with a gun.

Next, take direct violence out of the question. Here are three men on an island; two, poor, and one, rich—honestly so. They form a government, and hold a town meeting, where the majority rules. By a vote of 2 to 1, they tax away the rich man's wealth in order to distribute it to themselves. They elect a sheriff to collect.

Can That Be Social Justice?

Is this social justice? If so, what makes the joint act of two men moral when the act of one man is immoral? Force, or the threat of it, is behind both the vote and the hold-up.

On the other hand, Robinson Crusoe is alone on an island. He did not make the island, or its resources. He simply got there first. Two ship-wrecked sailors swim ashore. Crusoe tries to push them back into the sea. Here, plainly, is a different situation. They have the same right to live as Crusoe and are not taking anything that he made. Maybe the sailors would be morally justified in resisting.

But "social justice" now goes far beyond the redress of privilege, to an attack on success and private property. It now sanctifies socialism, and the leveling of society.

This puts some members of the Christian ministry in bad company. Dean Inge of England says: "Now that democracy has freed itself of salutary checks and balances, it stands revealed as a government by mass bribery, where the biggest bribers will usually be in power."

Read "Hunger and History," by E. Parmalee Prentice, published by the Constitution and Free Enterprise Foundation, 210 East 43rd St., New York City. This book proves that private property is responsible for most of the "social gains."

For hundreds of years, men were always so hungry that there was little room for mercy on compassion. Unwanted children were exposed to die. With the same natural resources then as now, the bark of trees, roots, worms and dead carcasses were the food of many Englishmen as late as the time of George III and the American Revolution.

Why? The chief reason was that while there was some right of private property, is was spoiled, like rotten apples in a barrel, by being mixed with socialism, communism, or "social justice." There was no incentive to breed up one's capital because all animals ran in a "common" pasture where the scrubs and diseased cattle constantly stunted the herd. "Open field" farming prevailed, with the rotation of land holdings. This gave no incentive to fertilize and improve land. So the land ran down, and cattle and men starved in a stagnant world.

Finally, came the "Enclosure Acts." In other words, fences, private property; and then, fine cattle, sheep horses and prosperity. On this side of the Atlantic there has never been a famine. Why? Private property.

Now England, by popular vote for nationalization and socialism, is returning to the system that cursed her for a thousand years. Some churchmen bless the program as "social justice!"

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

To Live Together

The world today is obsessed with problems—but the greatest is that one which comes to us all, again and again: How are we of this earth to live together? Certainly we cannot live together by fighting one another. In the end that will only mean that no one will finally live!

This is a beautiful earth, and there is room for all—food enough for all, and jobs enough for all. The earth is pregnant with abundance for all, if rightly conserved and not wasted, but there must be a bringing together into an understanding that will give peace to the entire world.

Hope and happiness are universal. But there must be a common language of understanding. Hate is the match that sets off the flames of war and destruction—perhaps, in the end, total oblivion. We may not like our neighbor, but so long as we let him live his own life, and he does the same for us, we can get along all right. As a matter of fact, each needs the other!

It is fallacious to think that because we have always had wars we must always have them. We had witchcraft once. We have it no more. War is savagery, and it is about time that we became civilized! War is pure waste, too. Nations have been long buried by it—and forgotten.

Our discoveries have become amusing gadgets that would astound legion. It could solve the troubles of all mankind—but it's too simple! It's too workable! We know too much—that is of no use to us. And so we flounder and spend our substance and life for guns and ammunition that only smother mankind and separate all into hate camps.

The Good Samaritan act was a wonderful one, but let us not shoot the fellow who "passed by on the other side," uncaring and uninterested. Perhaps he had a wrong bringing up! And perhaps he too might have been a prospective Samaritan! It might be a good idea to get him in conversation. Perhaps he might be a prospective friend, as well. It's worth thinking about—and acting upon, anyway.

American Mission Proposed To Seek Overall Moscow Pact

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Many people who are wondering if there isn't some way for Russia and the United States to get together have assumed that the only kind of conference which could accomplish anything would be between President Truman and Marshal Stalin.

Mr. Truman, however, squelches the idea of a personal meeting, saying that he doesn't want to leave the country but would be glad if Marshal Stalin came here. Obviously Mr. Stalin can't go so far away from Russia, so a personal meeting is out of the question.

But is a personal meeting between the two heads of state the only way? Last January the top diplomatic adviser to General Clay in Berlin, former Ambassador Robert Murphy, had an informal meeting with the Russian diplomat who performs the same service for the Russian commander-in-chief in Berlin. The upshot of the conversation was that there ought to be some way for the two governments to get closer together. Mr. Murphy came to Washington soon afterward and told the Department of State the details of the conversation.

U. S. Rebuffed Overtures

This overture by the Russians was rebuffed by the United States government. The reasons have never been made clear, although officials of the American government now say it wasn't a significant episode and could hardly be classed as a real gesture of cooperation. In any event, they chose to regard it as informal and not official, and nothing has happened since.

Although a man of Mr. Murphy's diplomatic experience evaluates the Russian initiative as significant, it may well be that the Department of State, for reasons of its own, chose to regard the approach as without importance.

The American people want to find an honorable basis of understanding with the Russian people. Secretary of State Marshall on his last trip to Moscow purposely stayed away from Marshal Stalin until the foreign ministers conference was almost over and commitments had been made to disagree on vital subjects. Many people in Congress have wondered why Secretary Marshall did not go earlier to see Marshal Stalin.

One explanation given hereabouts is that Mr. Stalin isn't as powerful as he once was and that the politburo, or group of Communist leaders, directs the strategy and that the premier merely has the power of recommendation. It is being said here that Molotov is more of a power in the politburo than is Marshal Stalin.

Whatever the difficulties of a personal meeting between President Truman and Marshal Stalin or between Secretary Marshall and the Russian government, there is still another way. It is for the President to appoint a commission of five to ten outstanding Americans to visit Moscow and discuss all manner of questions in an attempt to bring about an over-all settlement.

Such a commission—composed of educators, diplomats, churchmen, legislators — would have only the power of recommendation to the Department of State, but it is a fair assumption that, if the mission reached some real adjustments of pending questions, the recommendations would form the basis for formal agreements.

Precedent For Such a Step

There is precedent for such a step. When relations between Russia and the United States were strained after the Bolshevist revolution of 1917, President Wilson sent Elihu Root to Moscow at the head of a citizens' mission. Mr. Root was at the time the elder statesman of the Republican Party and had served with distinction as Secretary of State for many years under Republican presidents.

The advantage of an informal mission over a Secretary of State in the present circumstances is that the informal approach would be possible. This means covering a wide variety of subjects without the official inhibitions that ambassadors must necessarily feel in official parleys.

There are many who say that it is futile to talk with the Russians and that nothing can be accomplished. Those who hold that view are merely saying that military force is the only answer. If that be so, then Congress and the President are admittedly wrong in refusing to accept the $9,000,000,000 addition to armament expenses recommended by the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff as the only way to assure the American people's safety against attack. If, on the other hand, neither the Russian government nor any other government in Europe wants war, the task is still one for diplomacy, and the sending of a mission is a normal device used to attempt to settle international disputes.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Out Of The House Of Bondage

THROUGHOUT the world this week, those who live according to Jewish tradition will celebrate the Passover, one phase of which is the commemoration of the redemption of a people from slavery. At the Seder feast, where the family is gathered, it is repeated year after year: "Because we were slaves until Pharoah in Egypt and the Lord our God brought us forth from thence with a strong hand and an outstretched arm; . . ." and then the tale of slavery and redemption is told again and again.

To many, slavery seems remote and possibly exaggerated. Yet slavery was for many centuries, and even among the most civilized peoples, a normal state of socitey. Among theocratic peoples, slavery was less usual, but in communities where the military gained ascendancy and which were therefore organized for war, present or potential, slavery came to have a usual and appropriate place.

Before its institution, prisoners of war or entire races were massacred; however, when slavery came into being, such prisoners were no longer killed off; they were put to work or were sold as household servants.

The golden ages of Greece and Rome were products of slave states; the Ottoman Empire thrived on a slave base. As Arnold J. Toynbee puts it: ". . . The Ottoman Padishahs maintained their empire by training slaves as human auxiliaries to assist them in keeping order among their 'human cattle.' This remarkable institution of making soldiers and administrators out of slaves — an idea which is so congenial to the Nomad genius and so alien from ours — was not an Ottoman invention. We find it in other Nomad empires over sedentary peoples — and this precisely in those which have had the longest duration next to the Ottoman Empire itself."

Whether we refer to slavery or serfdom, it began to disappear during the middle of the Nineteenth Century and has since been viewed with abhorrance by all who live in what we generally refer to as the civilized world.

Yet the institution of slavery has been restored as a result of the last war. How many millions of human beings are now slaves, laboring without human rights in mine and mill and factory beyond the Urals, no one knows accurately. I have seen estimates ranging from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000.

These are not only prisoners of war but also prisoners of peace. Among them are displaced peoples like the Sudeten Germans who were uprooted from homes where their ancestors had dwelt for nearly a thousand years; among them are intellectual leaders from Poland, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary and Czechoslovakia; among them are personalities who, having opposed Hitler, branded themselves as democrats and therefore were offensive to totalitarian Communists; among them are brilliant German scientists whose value is their great knowledge. These are slaves.

This revival of slavery is the total rejection of human progress. It is an inevitable result of the Stalinist theory that the State can do no wrong; that whatever the State does is right if those who control the State find it necessary. It is a violent attack upon the American conception of the inalienable rights of the individual person, rights beyond the power of the State to grant or to cancel because they exist not by order of terrestrial authority but by the grace of God.

Aristotle speaks of natural-born slaves," and in his "Politics" he seeks to lay down a moral basis for this institution. He is capable of placing human slaves and domestic animals in the same category. It surely has been asumed during the Twentieth Century that we have moved far from that concept of any human being, anywhere on the face of the Earth. But here we are in the middle years of what started out to be a glorious age not only for the Western peoples but for the entire human race—and we witness a restoration of the institution of slavery. We have marched back as far as we had marched forward.

This is the central crime of World War II and the sorrow of it is that such a body as the United Nations does not even protest this infamy. We have become too stonily brutalized even to note that slavery has been restored.

Taxpayers Welcome Reduction In Tax Rate

Needless to say, taxpayers of Allegany county will welcome the news that the price they will have to pay on each $100 of assessable property to keep the county government functioning during the next fifteen months has been reduced five cents from the rate they were charged on the 1947 tax bills. Their gratification is increased when it is considered that the reduction comes in the midst of an inflationary period.

It is estimated that $2,619,800.00 will be required to run the county affairs during the fifteen month period. Real estate and other assessed properties will provide $1,670,000 of that amount. The balance, or $949,800.00, will come from the state through redistribution of certain taxes to counties and municipalities under the terms of the Sherbow Plan, and licenses and other fees.

Too, under the levy just approved by the county commissioners, the cost of operating county affairs will not be as great as during the past fiscal year of twelve months. This is hard to believe in face of the fact that costs for most everything are probably at their highest level in many years, and there are no immediate indications that they will be any lower in the near future. It should not be accomplished by reducing any of the fixed services the county has been rendering, and we do not anticipate any such thing.

Several things have made possible this reduction of the tax rate. There was a surplus of $494,400.00 which is being used. Then, of course, there are the taxes from the state. And, last, but by no means least, the assessed property values have, under the schedule of reassessing every five years, passed the $100,000,000 mark.

While some individual property owners had their assessments slightly increased, much of it was realized when exemptions from taxation on properties of three major industries in the county were outlawed. The court ruling on this issue made possible the carrying of the assessed property values to the highest peak in the county's history. And, it brought to the people of Allegany county a source of revenue which had been denied them for too long a time.

Not Only Principle At Stake In Oleo Fight

The fight for repeal of the Federal tax on margarine not only involves a principle but, as Rep. J. Glenn Beall realizes, judging by word he sent to the Independent Retail Food Association of Western Maryland a few days ago, that he intended voting for the bill, it will save housewives some of their food budget money.

Of course, Rep. Beall does not overlook the principle of whether taxes should be used to discriminate between two domestic products and force unfair competition on the open market.

For that reason the idea of compromise doesn't fit the picture. Representatives who are working for repeal of the tax are reported to have rejected a compromise which would suspend the tax for a year. They acted rightly. A suspension of the tax is not the answer. It doesn't settle the question of the principle.

Margarine has been proved to be good, wholesome food. Its only fault is that it competes with butter, and the dairy interests have been able to put the tax across. That is rank injustice, imposing a penalty on the consumer, especially at a time of high prices. The quicker the tax is repealed the better.

General De Gaulle's "Call" And His Timing To Make It

Noting General De Gaulle's call for a national election in France reminds us that timing is as important to a political leader as it is to a Babe Ruth or a Joe Louis. But it is yet to be proved that Charles de Gaulle has the timing sense of those redoubtable athletes.

De Gaulle timed his long-awaited Sunday announcement with one eye on Premier Schuman's plan for a sweeping reorganization of French defenses, and the other on the Italian election, which everybody predicted would defeat the Communists. To "le grand Charlie "it may have seemed a case of declaring himself now or never. Should the Communist menace decline in Western Europe, the argument for one-party rule under De Gaulle would lose some of its force.

When De Gaulle says that France needs political harmony to fight Communism he is eternally right. But in his Marseille announcement he did not admit the known fact that there is already a working arrangement between his Rally and the moderate coalition under quiet, hard-working Premier Schuman. De Gaulle has the Assembly votes to oust Schuman at any time, but he has chosen not to oppose the government on vital issues. On the other hand, the Schuman followers have recognized the latest power of De Gaulle and have privately agreed that an immediate Communist threat would bring the General to the fore, where Schuman would support him.

What Schuman will not grant is that the time has come for one-party or one-man rule in France. It is quite evident that the Communists have suffered a severe trouncing at the polls, even in Red strongholds like Milan and Bologna. As for France, she now has the guarantee of Marshall Plan aid and is a member of the growing western democratic union.

It would be folly to suppose that the Russo-Communist threat to Western Europe has vanished or is even seriously diminished. But neither has it suddenly been magnified in a way to justify the critical plebiscite that De Gaulle demands.

Hope Vs Fear

Six executives of Russian factories have been sent to prison for turning out unsatisfactory products, according to Soviet newspapers. That shows how far a government must go when it tries to run everything.

Over here, the people decide what's good and what's bad. If they don't like a product, they don't buy it, and the maker soon goes out of business. Less direct, perhaps. Less "efficient." But far more satisfactory.

Our system holds out the hope of reward to those who do good work; theirs threatens punishment to those who don't.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Incidence Of Typhus

Typhus fever for centuries has been the scourge of Europe and Asia. The extent of the problem can be appreciated when we realize that in Russia from 1919 to 1921, there were ten million victims and four million deaths.

The disease was once a menace to this country, particularly when immigration was at its height. come two thousand cases are still encountered here each year. But it is the endemic variety which is mild and hardly comparable to the epidemic form on the continent. This does not mean that the European type cannot develop in America. Theirs is caused by the bite of the body louse; ours, by the infected rat flea. Herein lies the threat and if we lower our standards and allow the "cootie" to run wild, we might find ourselves in a more serious predicament.

We can readily understand why epidemic typhus was so prevalent in Europe. It is part and parcel of that awful foursome—war, famine, disease, and death. In history it has adhered to the pattern of plague except that plague follows the trade routes whereas typhus is partial to armies. In our civil war, the malady was not a major factor and did far less damage than starvation, exhaustion, exposure, typhoid, scurvy, dysentery, and malaria. The American variety is observed most commonly in the South Atlantic states and along the Gulf coast. Sporadic outbreaks occur from time to time especially among food handlers. DDT and rat control have helped to eliminate the causative agents.

The early symptoms resemble influenza with fever, chills, headache, weakness, and malaise. The temperature remains elevated for two weeks and then subsides. During the third to seventh day, a pinkish rash appears on the chest, back, and abdomen which becomes darker each day until it is purplish. Pneumonia and delirium are noted occasionally. The word typhus means "stupor" but this symptom is more likely to occur in the European variety.

Diagnosis is made by means of blood tests. A preventive vaccine is recommended for those who must live or travel in areas where the ailment is prevalent. The substance does not protect every one who is vaccinated but helps considerably in modifying symptoms should the disease develop.

More advancements in the treatment of this disorder have been made during the past decade than ever before in the history of the infection. It can now be treated with para-aminobenzoic acid. A new drug, chloromycetin, has had a brilliant laboratory career in eradicating the causative organisms and has been successful also in the treatment of a related disease, Rocky mountain spotted fever. If this is true it means that another group of diseases has been conquered.

TRANSFUSION REACTION

O.W.B. writes: A friend of mine was operated on and needed blood. I was the same type (O) and gave some of mine for her. After the transfusion her skin broke out in a rash. I have never been ill so cannot understand why my blood could cause this trouble. Can you advise?

REPLY

I doubt if the transfusion was responsible for the skin eruption because when the patient reacts to this procedure, the symptoms are of a different nature. Furthermore, if the hospital has a blood bank your donation probably went into it and was not given directly to your friend. I would be more inclined to blame one of the medicines she undoubtedly was taking during her period of hospitalization.

Psittacosis

M.P. writes: Is there such a thing as parrot fever? A friend told me that people can catch this sickness from a parrot.

REPLY

Yes. The disease is due to a virus that attacks the bird and is passed to human beings. It produces pneumonia, indistinguishable from other virus types, except by special blood studies.

Jittery

S. B. writes: Is there any help for one who has a condition due to the autonomic nervous system? Examination shows the woman to be in perfect condition physically.

Reply

Yes. Individuals who were born with an overactive nervous system should reduce their responsibilities and obligations to a level where they will not be overtaxed. Otherwise strain leads to fatigue and anxiety which in turn stimulate the nerves leading to the heart, stomach, blood vessels, and other organs. If a decreased schedule does not help, the system can be toned down with sedatives.

HEART DISTURBANCE

Mrs. R. writes: What is congestion of the heart?

Reply

In the failing heart, as the output of blood lessens, the incoming flow is reduced. Thus considerable back pressure and congestion are created which is most noticeable in the lungs, liver, and lower extremities.

EITHER

Mrs. X. writes: If one ovary has been removed is it possible to have children of both sexes?

Reply

Should pregnancy occur, the child may be either sex. There is nothing to the theory that the ova from one ovary will produce only boys and those from the other only girls.

Italian Election Was People-To-People Victory; Million Extra Letters A Week To Italy; Truman Regrets He Missed Spanish-American War

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 23—One of the great things about the Italian election was that, in more ways than one, it was a people-to-people victory.

While the Moscow radio was prating about the proletariat, the American people were in close, actual touch with the Italian people. And it was this contact, by millions of letters, by telegrams and by relief which tipped the scale in the Italian election.

When this columnist traveled through Italy on the Friendship Train last Christmas, a large number of the cities were governed by Communist mayors. The deGasperi Government hung on by a precarious margin. If an election had been held then, most observers agreed the Communists would have won.

The Friendship Train, arriving at this particular time, helped make people realize who their real friends were. The State Department's adroit moves in regard to Trieste and in getting the American fleet out of Italian waters, took the wind out of Communist propaganda. Ambassador Dunn's tireless efforts in publicizing the arrival of U. S. food shipments helped turn the tide.

And on top of all this came the friendship letter-writing campaign to the people of Italy. Suggested from Rome last December by this columnist, the campaign was pushed by Generoso Pope in his Italian-American newspaper, Il Progresso. Day after day he pounded home the idea. Then it was taken up by others, until a million extra letters a week cleared the New York Post Office for Italy.

Everybody Wrote To Italy

All sorts of people helped. Out in Toledo, Mayor Mike diSalle formed a committee to encourage friendship letters. Unpublicized in the same city, Marion Antonini, a high-school student, worked late every night translating letters, even paying postage from his own pocket. . . . In Philadelphia, Ralph Marlowe, chief interpreter of the Municipal Court, toured Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware drumming up letters to Italy. . . . Citizens of Locust Valley, N. Y., organized "Operation Democracy," which they called the "People's Marshall Plan," and speeded up their plan of aiding the Italian city of Ponte Carvo, destroyed by war. . . . In Schenectady, Pat Truchio helped raise $5,000 to send cables to the Italian people. . . . In Jersey City, Richard Bonomo got up a special message from Italian-Americans addressed to the people of Laurenzana, the town from which they came. . . . In Lansing, Mich., Mrs. Elizabeth Belen boosted the letter-writing campaign. . . . Even in St. Petersburg, Fla., a city distant from the centers of Italian population, the Chamber of Commerce raised money for cables back to Italy. . . . This is just a cross section of what thousands of Americans did in the people-to-people campaign to win the Italian election. The rollcall is too long to call in one column.

War Brides Talk To Italy

Then there was radio. Walter Lemmon, of World Wide Broadcasting, an endowed foundation, turned all his facilities loose on Italy. Mrs. John Lodge, wife of the Connecticut Congressman, devoted most of her time to helping beam these broadcasts. . . . Generoso Pope's station WHOM, New York, gave Italo-Americans a chance to talk to their relatives back home. . . . Some wept, some laughed, all exhorted their friends in Italy to vote for democracy. Crowds lined the street four-abreast, one block long outside Pope's radio station. . . . And station WOV, New York, put on special programs by war brides. The Communists have been telling Italians that war brides in the USA were mistreated, so WOV gave these war brides a chance to tell how they were living happily in America, how well Americans treated them, and how important it was to vote for non-Communist friendship with the USA.

In other words the defeat of Communism in Italy was because a lot of Americans really went out and worked at the job of making Italian democracy live.

Friendship Train Of Books

Congratulations to Joseph Brandt, president of the Henry Holt Publishing Company, for suggesting a Friendship Train of books for Europe. Mr. Brandt proposes that all publishers get together at the end of each year and donate their unsold nonfiction books about America to Europe. Large publishers, says Mr. Brandt, have thousands of unsold books about America gathering dust on the shelves. Why not send them to Europe?

Note—A train of books now may save a boatload of bullets later.

Truman And Spanish War

When GOP Congressman Tom Martin of Iowa introduced Horace Havenner, national commander of the Spanish War Vets, to President Truman the other day, the President recalled his own excitement as a boy when the United States declared war on Spain.

"It was one of the biggest disappointments of my life that I was unable to serve," said Truman. "All my neighbors were going, but I was only 14 at the time and too young."

National commander Havenner, a Des Moines attorney who hails from Marengo, Iowa, in Congressman Martin's district, remarked that the ranks of Spanish War vets were dwindling rapidly. Many of his colleagues, he said, would be attending their last big encampment when the organization celebrates its 50th anniversary in Washington this summer.

"Yes, it's sad to see them passing on," agreed Truman. "Three or four of my neighbors who fought at Manila died recently."

"But there is a happy note in that the people of Cuba, whom we liberated, will always be thankful to the United States," commented his visitor.

"I am sure of it," replied the President. "The independence of Cuba and the Philippines stand out as great illustrations of the role the United States has played and continues to play in recognizing smaller countries and helping them establish themselves."

How Much Of Social Justice Is Moral? Will It Bring Happiness

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

I want to ask two questions about "social justice." How much of it is moral? Will it promote the happiness of mankind?

Let us reduce the first question to simple terms. A robber holds up a rich man who made his money honestly by batting home runs, or by making a good radio. Is the hold-up "social justice"?

Suppose the robber is well-to-do. He is a Robin Hood. What he steals from the rich he gives to the poor. He is a humanitarian with a gun.

Next, take direct violence out of the question. Here are three men on an island; two, poor, and one, rich—honestly so. They form a government, and hold a town meeting, where the majority rules. By a vote of 2 to 1, they tax away the rich man's wealth in order to distribute it to themselves. They elect a sheriff to collect.

Can That Be Social Justice?

Is this social justice? If so, what makes the joint act of two men moral when the act of one man is immoral? Force, or the threat of it, is behind both the vote and the hold-up.

On the other hand, Robinson Crusoe is alone on an island. He did not make the island, or its resources. He simply got there first. Two ship-wrecked sailors swim ashore. Crusoe tries to push them back into the sea. Here, plainly, is a different situation. They have the same right to live as Crusoe and are not taking anything that he made. Maybe the sailors would be morally justified in resisting.

But "social justice" now goes far beyond the redress of privilege, to an attack on success and private property. It now sanctifies socialism, and the leveling of society.

This puts some members of the Christian ministry in bad company. Dean Inge of England says: "Now that democracy has freed itself of salutary checks and balances, it stands revealed as a government by mass bribery, where the biggest bribers will usually be in power."

Read "Hunger and History," by E. Parmalee Prentice, published by the Constitution and Free Enterprise Foundation, 210 East 43rd St., New York City. This book proves that private property is responsible for most of the "social gains."

For hundreds of years, men were always so hungry that there was little room for mercy on compassion. Unwanted children were exposed to die. With the same natural resources then as now, the bark of trees, roots, worms and dead carcasses were the food of many Englishmen as late as the time of George III and the American Revolution.

Why? The chief reason was that while there was some right of private property, is was spoiled, like rotten apples in a barrel, by being mixed with socialism, communism, or "social justice." There was no incentive to breed up one's capital because all animals ran in a "common" pasture where the scrubs and diseased cattle constantly stunted the herd. "Open field" farming prevailed, with the rotation of land holdings. This gave no incentive to fertilize and improve land. So the land ran down, and cattle and men starved in a stagnant world.

Finally, came the "Enclosure Acts." In other words, fences, private property; and then, fine cattle, sheep horses and prosperity. On this side of the Atlantic there has never been a famine. Why? Private property.

Now England, by popular vote for nationalization and socialism, is returning to the system that cursed her for a thousand years. Some churchmen bless the program as "social justice!"

To Live Together

The world today is obsessed with problems—but the greatest is that one which comes to us all, again and again: How are we of this earth to live together? Certainly we cannot live together by fighting one another. In the end that will only mean that no one will finally live!

This is a beautiful earth, and there is room for all—food enough for all, and jobs enough for all. The earth is pregnant with abundance for all, if rightly conserved and not wasted, but there must be a bringing together into an understanding that will give peace to the entire world.

Hope and happiness are universal. But there must be a common language of understanding. Hate is the match that sets off the flames of war and destruction—perhaps, in the end, total oblivion. We may not like our neighbor, but so long as we let him live his own life, and he does the same for us, we can get along all right. As a matter of fact, each needs the other!

It is fallacious to think that because we have always had wars we must always have them. We had witchcraft once. We have it no more. War is savagery, and it is about time that we became civilized! War is pure waste, too. Nations have been long buried by it—and forgotten.

And so we flounder and spend our substance and life for guns and ammunition that only smother mankind and separate all into hate camps.

The Good Samaritan act was a wonderful one, but let us not shoot the fellow who "passed by on the other side," uncaring and uninterested. Perhaps he had a wrong bringing up! And perhaps he too might have been a prospective Samaritan! It might be a good idea to get him in conversation. Perhaps he might be a prospective friend, as well. It's worth thinking about—and acting upon, anyway.

American Mission Proposed To Seek Overall Moscow Pact

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Many people who are wondering if there isn't some way for Russia and the United States to get together have assumed that the only kind of conference which could accomplish anything would be between President Truman and Marshal Stalin.

Mr. Truman, however, squelches the idea of a personal meeting, saying that he doesn't want to leave the country but would be glad if Marshal Stalin came here. Obviously Mr. Stalin can't go so far away from Russia, so a personal meeting is out of the question.

But is a personal meeting between the two heads of state the only way? Last January the top diplomatic adviser to General Clay in Berlin, former Ambassador Robert Murphy, had an informal meeting with the Russian diplomat who performs the same service for the Russian commander-in-chief in Berlin. The upshot of the conversation was that there ought to be some way for the two governments to get closer together. Mr. Murphy came to Washington soon afterward and told the Department of State the details of the conversation.

U. S. Rebuffed Overtures

This overture by the Russians was rebuffed by the United States government. The reasons have never been made clear, although officials of the American government now say it wasn't a significant episode and could hardly be classed as a real gesture of cooperation. In any event, they chose to regard it as informal and not official, and nothing has happened since.

Although a man of Mr. Murphy's diplomatic experience evaluates the Russian initiative as significant, it may well be that the Department of State, for reasons of its own, chose to regard the approach as without importance.

The American people want to find an honorable basis of understanding with the Russian people. Secretary of State Marshall on his last trip to Moscow purposely stayed away from Marshal Stalin until the foreign ministers conference was almost over and commitments had been made to disagree on vital subjects. Many people in Congress have wondered why Secretary Marshall did not go earlier to see Marshal Stalin.

One explanation given hereabouts is that Mr. Stalin isn't as powerful as he once was and that the politburo, or group of Communist leaders, directs the strategy and that the premier merely has the power of recommendation. It is being said here that Molotov is more of a power in the politburo than is Marshal Stalin.

Whatever the difficulties of a personal meeting between President Truman and Marshal Stalin or between Secretary Marshall and the Russian government, there is still another way. It is for the President to appoint a commission of five to ten outstanding Americans to visit Moscow and discuss all manner of questions in an attempt to bring about an over-all settlement.

Such a commission—composed of educators, diplomats, churchmen, legislators — would have only the power of recommendation to the Department of State, but it is a fair assumption that, if the mission reached some real adjustments of pending questions, the recommendations would form the basis for formal agreements.

Precedent For Such a Step

There is precedent for such a step. When relations between Russia and the United States were strained after the Bolshevist revolution of 1917, President Wilson sent Elihu Root to Moscow at the head of a citizens' mission. Mr. Root was at the time the elder statesman of the Republican Party and had served with distinction as Secretary of State for many years under Republican presidents.

The advantage of an informal mission over a Secretary of State in the present circumstances is that the informal approach would be possible. This means covering a wide variety of subjects without the official inhibitions that ambassadors must necessarily feel in official parleys.

There are many who say that it is futile to talk with the Russians and that nothing can be accomplished. Those who hold that view are merely saying that military force is the only answer. If that be so, then Congress and the President are admittedly wrong in refusing to accept the $9,000,000,000 addition to armament expenses recommended by the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff as the only way to assure the American people's safety against attack. If, on the other hand, neither the Russian government nor any other government in Europe wants war, the task is still one for diplomacy, and the sending of a mission is a normal device used to attempt to settle international disputes.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Out Of The House Of Bondage

THROUGHOUT the world this week, those who live according to Jewish tradition will celebrate the Passover, one phase of which is the commemoration of the redemption of a people from slavery. At the Seder feast, where the family is gathered, it is repeated year after year: "Because we were slaves until Pharoah in Egypt and the Lord our God brought us forth from thence with a strong hand and an outstretched arm; . . ." and then the tale of slavery and redemption is told again and again.

To many, slavery seems remote and possibly exaggerated. Yet slavery was for many centuries, and even among the most civilized peoples, a normal state of socitey. Among theocratic peoples, slavery was less usual, but in communities where the military gained ascendancy and which were therefore organized for war, present or potential, slavery came to have a usual and appropriate place.

Before its institution, prisoners of war or entire races were massacred; however, when slavery came into being, such prisoners were no longer killed off; they were put to work or were sold as household servants.

The golden ages of Greece and Rome were products of slave states; the Ottoman Empire thrived on a slave base. As Arnold J. Toynbee puts it: ". . . The Ottoman Padishahs maintained their empire by training slaves as human auxiliaries to assist them in keeping order among their 'human cattle.' This remarkable institution of making soldiers and administrators out of slaves — an idea which is so congenial to the Nomad genius and so alien from ours — was not an Ottoman invention. We find it in other Nomad empires over sedentary peoples — and this precisely in those which have had the longest duration next to the Ottoman Empire itself."

Whether we refer to slavery or serfdom, it began to disappear during the middle of the Nineteenth Century and has since been viewed with abhorrance by all who live in what we generally refer to as the civilized world.

Yet the institution of slavery has been restored as a result of the last war. How many millions of human beings are now slaves, laboring without human rights in mine and mill and factory beyond the Urals, no one knows accurately. I have seen estimates ranging from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000.

These are not only prisoners of war but also prisoners of peace. Among them are displaced peoples like the Sudeten Germans who were uprooted from homes where their ancestors had dwelt for nearly a thousand years; among them are intellectual leaders from Poland, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary and Czechoslovakia; among them are personalities who, having opposed Hitler, branded themselves as democrats and therefore were offensive to totalitarian Communists; among them are brilliant German scientists whose value is their great knowledge. These are slaves.

This revival of slavery is the total rejection of human progress. It is an inevitable result of the Stalinist theory that the State can do no wrong; that whatever the State does is right if those who control the State find it necessary. It is a violent attack upon the American conception of the inalienable rights of the individual person, rights beyond the power of the State to grant or to cancel because they exist not by order of terrestrial authority but by the grace of God.

Aristotle speaks of natural-born slaves," and in his "Politics" he seeks to lay down a moral basis for this institution. He is capable of placing human slaves and domestic animals in the same category. It surely has been asumed during the Twentieth Century that we have moved far from that concept of any human being, anywhere on the face of the Earth. But here we are in the middle years of what started out to be a glorious age not only for the Western peoples but for the entire human race—and we witness a restoration of the institution of slavery. We have marched back as far as we had marched forward.

This is the central crime of World War II and the sorrow of it is that such a body as the United Nations does not even protest this infamy. We have become too stonily brutalized even to note that slavery has been restored.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

That peace conference they had down at Bogota averaged plenty of rioting to the square inch. It proved my contention that you never have to notify trouble of a change of address.

All the rough stuff was started by the Commies who insisted on putting the bananas in the refrigerator. That's treason down in the fruit belt.

You will notice the Commies do not accept the result of an election unless they win. They start what they call direct action or carrying a monkey wrench in their dinner pail.

Then they put sand in the oil can and they are all ready to fix other people's machinery.

Go to Church this Sunday, your Church, any Church, but go!

These crumbling ruins of the ancient Temple of Jupiter at Baalbec in Syria, excite the wonder and command the admiration of modern architects and engineers.

With their primitive machines and methods, it must have required the labor of hundreds of thousands of men to mine these great stones, haul them from distant quarries, chisel them into beautiful designs and build them into this stately and imposing structure.

Religion has always inspired the best that was in man and called forth his noblest efforts—even when it was no more than blind faith in a pagan god.

In this modern and enlightened day, with our cleaner understanding of the moral, ethical and spiritual character of God, religion is still the touchstone of human character, the inspiration of human action, and the force behind man's highest achievements.

Every church in the land is a shrine of God and every worshipper an heir to the eternal heritage of faith. Here the hopes and aspirations of mankind throughout the ages are brought to a rich fruition.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

These crumbling ruins of the ancient Temple of Jupiter at Baalbec in Syria, excite the wonder and command the admiration of modern architects and engineers.

With their primitive machines and methods, it must have required the labor of hundreds of thousands of men to mine these great stones, haul them from distant quarries, chisel them into beautiful designs and build them into this stately and imposing structure.

Religion has always inspired the best that was in man and called forth his noblest efforts—even when it was no more than blind faith in a pagan god.

In this modern and enlightened day, with our cleaner understanding of the moral, ethical and spiritual character of God, religion is still the touchstone of human character, the inspiration of human action, and the force behind man's highest achievements.

Every church in the land is a shrine of God and every worshipper an heir to the eternal heritage of faith. Here the hopes and aspirations of mankind throughout the ages are brought to a rich fruition.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

What You Gain...
When You Select S. T. Little Silver

Whether it's a tiny spoon for the new baby or a whole service for the new bride . . . there's an art in selecting your silver. It's an art we've learned well from serving six generations of brides and bridegrooms, mothers and fathers, babies and children.

We can sum up this art in five suggestions that we offer for your benefit:

1. It's important to buy an "open" pattern you can match through the years. (Ours are America's 65 best loved patterns... of enduring beauty.)
2. It's important to insure yourself against inferior quality. (Quality for quality, weight for weight, penny for penny . . . ours is the most economical.)
3. It's important to have someone take a special interest in you . . . someone you can count on for good taste and counsel. (Our reputation is founded on this.)
4. It's nice to know you can shop in pleasant surroundings . . . in the S. T. Little Silver Room.
5. It's good to have those extra services that we offer. (Quick delivery, gift wrapping, exchanging, etc.)

Police Probe Thefts

Two alleged breakings and enterings are being investigated by Sheriff D. E. Crosten, Parsons, and Trooper Charles Burke of the West Virginia State Police. Davis Coal and Coke Mine No. 40 of Pierce was entered during the strike and several mining tools taken, police said.

Sheriff Crosten is also probing the breaking and entering at Gillis Junk Shop near Parsons Memorial Park where several tools were taken.

Tannery Closes

James McFadden, superintendent, of the Armour Leather Company, Parsons, stated that the beam department closed Saturday due to a lack of hides.

McFadden said 30 men are employed in that department, which receives the hides. As the hides are worked through other departments will be forced to close, he said.

The local plant employs 160 men.

Rites For Harman

A funeral service will be conducted in First Methodist Church, Davis, Sunday at 2 p. m. for Chief Petty Officer Cooper Haman. Rev. R. W. Morrow, Jr., pastor, will officiate.

Chief Petty Officer Harman was killed in a jeep accident on April 29, 1945. He was born at Canaan Valley September 11, 1909, a son of the late Jason and Elmira Harper Harman who died last winter.

He was a graduate of Davis High School in 1930 and was a member of Fairfax Lodge No. 96, A. F. and A. M., and of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie No. 936, Davis, and of the Brethren Church of Eglon.

He is survived by seven sisters and four brothers. Full military rites will be conducted by Blue Ridge Post No. 22, American Legion, Davis, and interment will be in the family grave yard on the Harper farm.

Phillips Rites Held

County May

The board was informed that arrangements have been made with the John I. Vandegrift Company, contractors, by insurance companies to check the building and make a report. Commissioners said fire insurance coverage on the building totals $42,500 and policies call for paying for damage if the building is not rebuilt or for replacement of the structure up to that amount. Vandegrift is to provide an estimate for the insurance companies on the cost of replacing or repairing.

The commissioners indicated they would also have a contractor make a similar investigation and report for the Board.

Consider Library Annex

The annex to the Public Library, opposite the Court House, also entered the discussion, but there is some question as to the title to this property. The opinion was ventured that the annex building, once a residence, was conveyed with the old Academy building to the Cumberland Free Public Library, and is not now owned by the county. A check of title is to be made for the Board.

Commissioners indicated a part of this building may be used to house the state's attorney's offices, at least temporarily, and it was also stated that the county engineer has been given space in the old Cumberland Street School building, now used in part by the Allegany County Welfare Board.

Trial Magistrates Court has been moved temporarily to the Public Safety building in Police Court rooms. Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., said last night that the public can be accomodated there temporarily, and in an emergency, the quarters are proving satisfactory. However, other arrangements are being considered.

No formal action was taken by the Board, but from the discussion observers believed it was evident the Union Street site might eventually be abandoned as county property, and county offices set up in other available quarters, with little or no new immediate construction.

In the new levy, an appropriation of $37,000 was made for repairs to county buildings, a portion of the amount to have been expended on the Union Street property. If the site is abandoned, this money can be used on other county buildings, or will create a surplus in the account for next year.

Stassen Urges Collective Action Under U. N. Charter To Stop Reds

AKRON, O., April 23 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen proposed tonight collective action by the United States and other nations acting under the United Nations Charter to stop Communist infiltration and aggression.

The Republican presidential aspirant invited Sen. Robert A. Taft to express his views on the proposal as they battle for Ohio delegates to the GOP national convention.

Stassen is seeking 23 of the state's 53 delegates at the primary May 4. Taft, the Ohio GOP's "favorite son," has a full slate in the field.

Stassen said he hoped the discussions would convince Republicans of the soundness of his proposal and that it might be incorporated in the Republican national platform. He said he would battle for adoption of such a platform plank.

The Minnesotian said his plan is authorized by the United Nations Charter and is outside the pale of Russian veto.

He declared his plan could be used collectively or even unilaterally by the United States to stop Communist infiltration in any nation, or to stop aggression by armed force.

Taft Criticizes Stassen

CLEVELAND, April 23 (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft contended tonight Harold E. Stassen was "proclaiming in one voice his support of the Taft-Hartley law," while at the same time "obviously appealing to the labor vote by criticizing specific sections" of the act.

In Cleveland after two days of campaigning throughout Northeastern Ohio for Republican presidential delegates, Taft said in a statement:

"This law represented the consolidated opinion of many men who worked on it, and I don't suppose it pleases anybody in its entirety. Does Mr. Stassen want to repeal any part of it, or is he simply appealing for the votes of those who do wish to repeal the law?"

In a short address on Lowell Thomas' news broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting System, Taft repeated previous assertions that his opponent in the Ohio GOP primary was "appealing on some general theory that he is more liberal than I, and says he finds himself in constant disagreement with me on key questions of domestic and foreign policy."

Five Men Questioned

Davis was one of five former UAW-CIO officials questioned Thursday and today. No accusations were made against any of them. Police explained that they merely were asked to try to shed any possible light on Reuther's assailant.

Besides Davis, the others were George F. Addes, whom Reuther ousted as union secretary-treasurer in a hot political battle; Percy Llewellyn, one-time president of the big Ford Local 600, UAW-CIO; Wilfred Grant, another former president of the local and now a candidate for vice president, and Sheldon Tappes, former secretary of the local. These four were released immediately after questioning.

Syrian Invasion Looms

DAMASCUS, Syria, April 23 (AP)—Syrian army officers said today they had "stand by" orders for a possible invasion of Palestine "after 10 days and not later than May 15."

The order was received following a meeting here today of Syrian and Lebanese army general staffs with Ahmed Bey Sharabati, Syria's Minister of Defense and self-styled "man behind the scenes" in the organization of the Arab army of liberation for Palestine.

April 30 Is Deadline

The steel workers now are conducting wage talks on behalf of 650,000 members. Such discussions are permitted during the month of April under the current two-year pact expiring next spring. The pact says that if reopening of wage provisions does not result in satisfactory settlement by April 30, current pay scales will remain in effect.

United States Steel said prices of a wide variety of products—from tin plate to barbed wire—would be cut May 1.

Westinghouse put its reductions into effect at once.

Warrant Charges 166 Miners With Maiming

GRUNDY, Va., April 23—(AP)—A warrant charging 166 miners with maiming was issued today as a result of their clash with workers at a non-union strip mine, Trial Justice W. Clyde Dennis reported.

The warrant was issued at Dennis' office. He said state police arrested 14 of the defendants today and were expected to bring in more tonight.

Russia Seen Enforcing Air Traffic Regulations

BERLIN, April 23 (AP)—Soviet Air Force Gen. Alexandrov declared his belief today that Russia very soon will attempt to enforce measures for the "safety of Soviet planes" in the American, British and French air corridors in Berlin.

A British spokesman at once declared the British would resist any Russian infringement on the air corridors, the Western Allied Powers' last free link over the Soviet zone between Berlin and Western Germany.

His statement was backed by the stand taken a few days ago by an American spokesman who said "if the Russians try to enact unilaterally their proposals for air corridor traffic, I think they will find them pretty hard to enforce."

Commodity Prices Skid For Second Day In Row

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Commodity prices skidded sharply today for the second straight day, but New York stocks hit their highest average in nine months.

All grains slumped in all North American markets. At one time wheat was off nearly 10 cents, the daily limit, in Chicago.

The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities sagged 1.12 points to 186.16. In two days, the index has dropped 2.36 points. A week ago the index was 187.39, a month ago 184.86 and a year ago 172.83.

Strong Communist Force Streaming Into China

PEIPING, Saturday, April 24 (AP)—Strong Communist forces today were reported sweeping across the Great Wall from Manchura into China proper bent on cutting the government's Manchurian corridor at its base.

Pro-government press dispatches said two columns were in the long-predicted attack. They estimated their strength at six divisions (from 50,000 to 100,000 men.)

Industry Draft Law Urged

Capitol Hill, meanwhile, heard arguments pro and con on preparedness, including a plea for a law to draft industries as well as armies in wartime.

The Senate War Investigating Committee recommended that Congress decide now just how it will convert industry from peace to war in case the need arises.

The report said President Roosevelt had to rely on "an utterly outmoded" law of 1916 to mobilize industry in World War II. It said the law provided for a defense advisory board which was a "seven-man monstrosity" reminiscent of pre-Revolutionary days.

A much better system is needed in "this atomic era," the report said. It warned that America in the next war may be not only an arsenal but a battlefield.

It did not outline a specific program, but recommended that it include universal service that would take unfair profits out of war industry.

The Senate committee, headed by Sen. Gurney (R-SD), lacked a quorum today and postponed further meetings until Monday.

But there was activity in the House.

A country preacher from Indiana, E. Paul Weaver, of Huntington County, told the House Armed Services Committee that American Legion leaders are pushing for a peacetime draft without the support of their own members.

to James H. Barnes, assistant city attorney who also represents the unions and who has had several arguments with the police at the picket line.

In a matter of minutes after police arrived the hall was empty. Broken glass littered the floor. Some union members jumped through windows to escape club swinging policemen. Women screamed. Chairs were overturned. Blood was spattered on walls and floor.

Ten persons, two of them women, were treated at hospitals.

Attack Without Warning

Baker, who said he was not at the scene, declared the attack was made without warning.

"The police began to belabor with clubs everyone in sight not in uniform, shouting 'go back to work and get off the streets.' x x x No one but police were left on the scene. Even restaurants and all business places within a two block area were entered by police and everyone except employes, driven out."

Police reported they confiscated and took to headquarters six weapons found in the hall. A sawed off billiard cue, a billy club, a broomstick with a bent nail protruding from one end, a large iron bolt, a wooden mallet and a three-foot stick.

Dahlin said the trouble began after someone inside the union hall had slammed the door as he attempted to talk to them, then when he kicked it open someone tried to grab him.

through the United Nations to put an end to fighting in the Holy Land, and arrange a trusteeship government, but it is still highly uncertain whether this plan will be successful.

Other current problems on which Marshall may have to make decisions soon after his return here include the question of military backing for the Western European nations and possible Russian reaction to the Communist defeat in last week's Italian election.

President Truman was asked at his news conference yesterday whether he could give any information on military support for Western Europe and replied that while he could say nothing at the moment, he hoped to have an announcement soon.

Washington officials said they knew of no compelling reason why Marshall should remain in Bogota. They expressed the view that the important work of the Inter-American Conference has been completed, despite the fact it was interrupted by the revolution which broke out in Bogota, April 9.

Sheriff Crosten is also probing the breaking and entering at Gillis Junk Shop near Parsons Memorial Park where several tools were taken.

He was a graduate of Davis High School in 1930 and was a member of Fairfax Lodge No. 96, A. F. and A. M., and of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie No. 936, Davis, and of the Brethren Church of Eglon.

County May

The board was informed that arrangements have been made with the John I. Vandegrift Company, contractors, by insurance companies to check the building and make a report. Commissioners said fire insurance coverage on the building totals $42,500 and policies call for paying for damage if the building is not rebuilt or for replacement of the structure up to that amount. Vandegrift is to provide an estimate for the insurance companies on the cost of replacing or repairing.

The commissioners indicated they would also have a contractor make a similar investigation and report for the Board.

Consider Library Annex

The annex to the Public Library, opposite the Court House, also entered the discussion, but there is some question as to the title to this property. The opinion was ventured that the annex building, once a residence, was conveyed with the old Academy building to the Cumberland Free Public Library, and is not now owned by the county. A check of title is to be made for the Board.

Commissioners indicated a part of this building may be used to house the state's attorney's offices, at least temporarily, and it was also stated that the county engineer has been given space in the old Cumberland Street School building, now used in part by the Allegany County Welfare Board.

Trial Magistrates Court has been moved temporarily to the Public Safety building in Police Court rooms. Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., said last night that the public can be accomodated there temporarily, and in an emergency, the quarters are proving satisfactory. However, other arrangements are being considered.

No formal action was taken by the Board, but from the discussion observers believed it was evident the Union Street site might eventually be abandoned as county property, and county offices set up in other available quarters, with little or no new immediate construction.

In the new levy, an appropriation of $37,000 was made for repairs to county buildings, a portion of the amount to have been expended on the Union Street property. If the site is abandoned, this money can be used on other county buildings, or will create a surplus in the account for next year.

Stassen Urges Collective Action Under U. N. Charter To Stop Reds

AKRON, O., April 23 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen proposed tonight collective action by the United States and other nations acting under the United Nations Charter to stop Communist infiltration and aggression.

The Republican presidential aspirant invited Sen. Robert A. Taft to express his views on the proposal as they battle for Ohio delegates to the GOP national convention.

Stassen is seeking 23 of the state's 53 delegates at the primary May 4. Taft, the Ohio GOP's "favorite son," has a full slate in the field.

Stassen said he hoped the discussions would convince Republicans of the soundness of his proposal and that it might be incorporated in the Republican national platform. He said he would battle for adoption of such a platform plank.

The Minnesotian said his plan is authorized by the United Nations Charter and is outside the pale of Russian veto.

He declared his plan could be used collectively or even unilaterally by the United States to stop Communist infiltration in any nation, or to stop aggression by armed force.

Taft Criticizes Stassen

CLEVELAND, April 23 (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft contended tonight Harold E. Stassen was "proclaiming in one voice his support of the Taft-Hartley law," while at the same time "obviously appealing to the labor vote by criticizing specific sections" of the act.

In Cleveland after two days of campaigning throughout Northeastern Ohio for Republican presidential delegates, Taft said in a statement:

"This law represented the consolidated opinion of many men who worked on it, and I don't suppose it pleases anybody in its entirety. Does Mr. Stassen want to repeal any part of it, or is he simply appealing for the votes of those who do wish to repeal the law?"

In a short address on Lowell Thomas' news broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting System, Taft repeated previous assertions that his opponent in the Ohio GOP primary was "appealing on some general theory that he is more liberal than I, and says he finds himself in constant disagreement with me on key questions of domestic and foreign policy."

Five Men Questioned

Davis was one of five former UAW-CIO officials questioned Thursday and today. No accusations were made against any of them. Police explained that they merely were asked to try to shed any possible light on Reuther's assailant.

Besides Davis, the others were George F. Addes, whom Reuther ousted as union secretary-treasurer in a hot political battle; Percy Llewellyn, one-time president of the big Ford Local 600, UAW-CIO; Wilfred Grant, another former president of the local and now a candidate for vice president, and Sheldon Tappes, former secretary of the local. These four were released immediately after questioning.

Syrian Invasion Looms

DAMASCUS, Syria, April 23 (AP)—Syrian army officers said today they had "stand by" orders for a possible invasion of Palestine "after 10 days and not later than May 15."

April 30 Is Deadline

The steel workers now are conducting wage talks on behalf of 650,000 members. Such discussions are permitted during the month of April under the current two-year pact expiring next spring. The pact says that if reopening of wage provisions does not result in satisfactory settlement by April 30, current pay scales will remain in effect.

United States Steel said prices of a wide variety of products—from tin plate to barbed wire—would be cut May 1.

Warrant Charges 166 Miners With Maiming

GRUNDY, Va., April 23—(AP)—A warrant charging 166 miners with maiming was issued today as a result of their clash with workers at a non-union strip mine, Trial Justice W. Clyde Dennis reported.

The warrant was issued at Dennis' office. He said state police arrested 14 of the defendants today and were expected to bring in more tonight.

Russia Seen Enforcing Air Traffic Regulations

BERLIN, April 23 (AP)—Soviet Air Force Gen. Alexandrov declared his belief today that Russia very soon will attempt to enforce measures for the "safety of Soviet planes" in the American, British and French air corridors in Berlin.

A British spokesman at once declared the British would resist any Russian infringement on the air corridors, the Western Allied Powers' last free link over the Soviet zone between Berlin and Western Germany.

His statement was backed by the stand taken a few days ago by an American spokesman who said "if the Russians try to enact unilaterally their proposals for air corridor traffic, I think they will find them pretty hard to enforce."

Commodity Prices Skid For Second Day In Row

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Commodity prices skidded sharply today for the second straight day, but New York stocks hit their highest average in nine months.

PEIPING, Saturday, April 24 (AP)—Strong Communist forces today were reported sweeping across the Great Wall from Manchura into China proper bent on cutting the government's Manchurian corridor at its base.

Industry Draft Law Urged

Capitol Hill, meanwhile, heard arguments pro and con on preparedness, including a plea for a law to draft industries as well as armies in wartime.

The Senate War Investigating Committee recommended that Congress decide now just how it will convert industry from peace to war in case the need arises.

The report said President Roosevelt had to rely on "an utterly outmoded" law of 1916 to mobilize industry in World War II. It said the law provided for a defense advisory board which was a "seven-man monstrosity" reminiscent of pre-Revolutionary days.

A much better system is needed in "this atomic era," the report said. It warned that America in the next war may be not only an arsenal but a battlefield.

It did not outline a specific program, but recommended that it include universal service that would take unfair profits out of war industry.

The Senate committee, headed by Sen. Gurney (R-SD), lacked a quorum today and postponed further meetings until Monday.

But there was activity in the House.

A country preacher from Indiana, E. Paul Weaver, of Huntington County, told the House Armed Services Committee that American Legion leaders are pushing for a peacetime draft without the support of their own members.

to James H. Barnes, assistant city attorney who also represents the unions and who has had several arguments with the police at the picket line.

In a matter of minutes after police arrived the hall was empty. Broken glass littered the floor. Some union members jumped through windows to escape club swinging policemen. Women screamed. Chairs were overturned. Blood was spattered on walls and floor.

Ten persons, two of them women, were treated at hospitals.

Attack Without Warning

Baker, who said he was not at the scene, declared the attack was made without warning.

"The police began to belabor with clubs everyone in sight not in uniform, shouting 'go back to work and get off the streets.' x x x No one but police were left on the scene. Even restaurants and all business places within a two block area were entered by police and everyone except employes, driven out."

Police reported they confiscated and took to headquarters six weapons found in the hall. A sawed off billiard cue, a billy club, a broomstick with a bent nail protruding from one end, a large iron bolt, a wooden mallet and a three-foot stick.

Dahlin said the trouble began after someone inside the union hall had slammed the door as he attempted to talk to them, then when he kicked it open someone tried to grab him.

through the United Nations to put an end to fighting in the Holy Land, and arrange a trusteeship government, but it is still highly uncertain whether this plan will be successful.

Other current problems on which Marshall may have to make decisions soon after his return here include the question of military backing for the Western European nations and possible Russian reaction to the Communist defeat in last week's Italian election.

President Truman was asked at his news conference yesterday whether he could give any information on military support for Western Europe and replied that while he could say nothing at the moment, he hoped to have an announcement soon.

Washington officials said they knew of no compelling reason why Marshall should remain in Bogota. They expressed the view that the important work of the Inter-American Conference has been completed despite the fact it was interrupted by the revolution which broke out in Bogota, April 9.

Lawrence Edward Bromery, son of Lawrence Randolph Bromery, 211 Carroll Street, Cumberland, and Jackie Mercer, brother of Mrs. Sue Dixon, Piedmont, were the local area sailors reported to have landed from the USS Fresno, a light cruiser.

Suburban Residents Ask Late Bus Service

A petition requesting late bus service for residents of Roberts Place, Bowling Green, Potomac Park and Cresaptown has been submitted to the Transportation Department of the Potomac Edison Company.

Approximately 250 signatures were affixed to the petition, the text of which follows:

"It is requested by the citizens of Roberts Place, Bowling Green, Potomac Park, Cresaptown, and persons residing on route between Cumberland and Cresaptown that a bus be scheduled for 12:30 a. m.

"Due to the inconvenience of taking the last bus at 11:40 p. m., people have to leave places of entertainment in time to take the last bus. Persons attending dances in Cumberland and late movies, etc., find the present service very inconvenient."

Henry W. Price, district manager of the Potomac Edison Company, said he had not yet seen the petition, but that it would be given consideration.

65 Children Tested At Hearing Clinic

Sixty-five children were examined at the two-day hearing clinic which ended Thursday afternoon at headquarters of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children, according to Health Department officials.

Of that number, 17 were new cases. Twenty-three received radium treatments. The clinic was conducted by Dr. M. L. Breitstein, Baltimore specialist. Miss Grace Hardman, Mrs. Gladys Pitzer and Miss Elda McCracken, public health nurses, and members of the Allegany County Public Health Lay Council assisted Dr. Breitstein.

Mrs. Albert Paye conducted audiometer tests.

Court Of Honor Is Postponed

The Boy Scout Court of Honor originally scheduled for Monday night has been postponed until Monday, May 3, at 7:30 p. m. in the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Miles G. Thompson, chairman of Cumberland District, Potomac Council, explained the postponement was necessary because many of the award certificates and a number of merit badges were destroyed in the fire Wednesday night which gutted the Union Street Building.

Thompson said it was "miraculous" that the Scout office, located on the second floor in the center section of the building, suffered only minor damage in the blaze, which gutted the adjacent Army and Marine Reserve offices.

Scout records and furniture have been stored temporarily in a neighboring South Centre Street building. Thompson said that no plans have been made for relocation of the Scout office.

Although no estimate of damage to the office was available, the district chairman said furniture and equipment were insured for $500.

Thirty-eight members of Boy Scout troops in Cumberland District will receive advancements in rank or merit badges at the Court of Honor. Marion T. Powers, Court of Honor chairman for the district, will preside.

3,619 Residents Get Fishing Permits

A total of 3,619 fishing licenses has been issued in Allegany county thus far this year, according to Clerk of Court Robert Jackson. There appear to be fewer anglers this year, although license clerks said when bass season opens the number will increase.

Last year a total of 5,523 licenses were issued to residents, together with 35 non-resident permits, 53 daily tourist licenses and 14 Potomac River licenses.

Underwriters Group Hears Baltimorean

The Cumberland Life Insurance Underwriters Association in a regular monthly meeting Thursday night at the "Policy Hall' of the Central YMCA heard James P. Graham, Jr., of Baltimore, main speaker of the evening.

The meeting was presided over by Ray Hamber. The program had a family aspect inasmuch as the guest speaker is also a brother of the local Aetna representative.

During his talk, Graham stipulated and illustrated how, in a days work, if system of method, habit of accomplishment and momentum of effort are correlated, the results will produce nothing less than champion calibre performance.

A Cumberland and a Piedmont, W. Va., sailor were among the 1,300 officers and enlisted men who were welcomed in Dublin, Eire, on April 22, as the United States Navy paid its first visit of courtesy to the shores of the Irish Free State since before World War II.

Allegany, Fort Hill And LaSalle Win Conference Games

Bruce's Single Gives AHS Win Over Hyndman

Nets Three In Fifth As Clingan Cops, 4-3

Erl "Lefty" Bruce's single to deep left field cleaned the bases in the fifth inning and enabled Allegany High School to come from behind and Edge Hyndman (Pa.) High School in the opening game of the Bi-State Baseball Conference yesterday at Campobello. The score was 4-3.

The victory was the fourth straight of the season for the Blue and White.

Hyndman jumped off to a three-run lead in the first inning but thereafter Jim Clingan shut out the visitors. Tom Harden got a life on an error and was forced at second by Cliff Clites. The latter scored the first run of the game on "Rich" Emerick's double. Ronnie Schad smacked out a two-bagger to score Emerick. After Jack Shaffer walked, Don Bush's single sent Schad home.

In the third Jack Devault singled, moved to second on an outfield error and scored Allegany's initial run on Jim McGregor's double. The next three batters went down in order.

Clingan flied to short to open the big fifth. After devault hit safely, McGregor flied to center. Ned Clopton was hit by a pitched ball and Devault took second. Davey Lewis walked, filling the bases. Then Bruce whistled a long hit to left and three runners crossed the platter on the blow.

The Pennsylvanians were limited to four hits, three of which came in the opening frame. Clingan whiffed nine and issued only one pass. Bush, who pitched 4⅔ innings for Hyndman and yielded all of Allegany's five safeties was the losing hurler.

Devault and Emerick paced the hitters with two safeties each. Box:

Fort Hill Sends Five To Elkins

Hahn Takes Quintet To Invitational Meet

Five Fort Hill High School track and field athletes will compete in the Elkins High School Invitational Meet today at Elkins, W. Va., Coach William P. Hahn announced last night.

Larry McKenzie, Edgar "Barney" Tucker, Leroy Cover, John Alderton and James Judd are the boys chosen to make the trip with Hahn. All of the athletes are juniors but Judd is a sophomore.

The Fort Hill quintet will likely compete in the 100, 220, 440, 880, high jump, broad jump and either the mile or medley relay.

Elkins High's invitational meet will attract such large schools as Charleston, Clarksburg, Morgantown, Fairmont and Beckley and the competition is sure to be keen.

Hahn feels that the trip will be good experience for the five undergraduates.

Murray Hardinger, who won the 440 yards dash and ran on the Fort Hill 880 yards relay team in Thursday's quadrangular meet came up with a touch of "shin splints" yesterday and will be lost to the track team temporarily at least.

Four well known Fort Hill football players have accepted invitations to visit colleges at different points today. Bill Treiber will be at West Virginia University, Ray Stevenson and Gary Moler are going to Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg, Va., and Don Sensabaugh will go to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis.

Sunday School Teams Play For Title Today; Coaches' Team Named

Grace Methodist and First Presbyterian will meet today at 3 o'clock on the "Y" court for the championship of the Central YMCA Junior Sunday School Basketball League.

Coaches of the league will play an all-star aggregation in the preliminary contest at 1:45 p. m.

Harold Fearer will guide the destinies of the coaches' team whose personnel comprises Vernon Wharton, Gene Shaw, Lou Baker, Sam Blume, Cliff Bowling, Walter Henry, Bob Cunningham, Phil Reuschel, Vernon Hoggard, Bill Nield and Don Loy.

Cardinals Held To Two Safeties, Top Chicago, 1-0

Ralph LaPointe's Hit In 9th Decides Game

CHICAGO, April 23 (INS)—Cub southpaw Johnny Schmitz yielded only two hits today, but one of them, Ralph La Pointe's ninth-inning double with a mate on first, chased home the only run of the ball game to give Harry Brecheen and the St. Louis Cardinals a 1-0 victory.

A throng of 26,591 heartsore Chicagoans, assembled for the Cubs' first home appearance of the season, saw their favorites reach Brecheen for nine hits and put runners on third base four different times, twice with only one out—but all to no avail.

The Cards, meanwhile, had only Nippy Jones' fifth-inning single to show against Schmitz until the ninth, when Erv Dusak walked and La Pointe delivered his two-base hit.

BLACKWELL IS WINNER

CINCINNATI, April 23 (INS)—Stringy Ewell Blackwell cast his accustomed spell over the Pittsburgh Pirates today, although his Cincinnati mates had to overcome a three-run deficit before winning 5 to 3.

It taking his second decision of the year and his seventh straight over Pittsburgh, Blackwell yielded three Buc runs in the first two innings before the Reds could find the range.

This they did, however, with Johnny Wyrostek starting things with a fourth inning homer. Another run in the sixth and a two-run seventh, featured by Virgil Stallcup's double and Frank Baumholtz' single, were enough to chase Pirate starter Kirby Higbe and sew up the game for the Redlegs. Box:

Trout Season Opens In West Virginia

Streams In Nearby Counties Are Clear

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 23 (AP) — Given clear weather, West Virginia's fishermen will find near-ideal stream conditions for the opening of the annual trout season tomorrow at 6 a. m.

The weather bureau, however, predicted showers for tomorrow.

The Conservation Commission said today that only in Taylor County were trout waters high and muddy. Elsewhere the streams were rated from "good" to "excellent" for fishing.

At the same time, commission officials said that license sales for April of this year are running up to 20 percent above those for the same 1947 month, when a record number of anglers headed for the stream banks.

"Excellent" stream conditions were listed for Barbour, Tucker, Upshur, Randolph, Webster, Nicholas and Pocahontas counties. All streams were "clear" in Mercer, Monroe, Greenbrier, Pendleton, Grant, Hardy, Mineral, Hampshire, Marion, Berkeley and Jefferson counties.

"Good" conditions were reported for Preston, Monongalia, Wyoming, Fayette, Boone and Logan.

The season will continue through July 15.

A restocking program conducted by the Commission placed 135,000 legal-sized trout in the stream this year.

Anglers, under commission regulations, are limited to 15 brook trout per day, or 100 per season. The minimum length is six inches.

The minimum length for brown and rainbow trout is seven inches. The creel limits are 10 per day or 100 per season for each, except that a total of not more than 15 of all species of trout shall be kept by one person in one day, or more than 10 rainbow and brown trout combined.

Records Tumble At Drake Relays

Blozis' Discus Mark Cracked By Gordien

DES MOINES, Ia. April 23—(INS)—Harrison Dillard, the nonpareil of hurdling, turned sprinter today and anchor-ran Baldwin Wallace's half mile relay team to one of two new collegiate marks in the classy Drake Relays.

The other mark to fall in this, the first of two days' battling in the 39th renewal of the Drake games, was the late Al Blozis' six-year-old discus record of 161.45 feet. This was ably amended today by Minnesota's Fortune Gordien, a lead-plated Olympic cinch, who whipped the plate 165 feet 5 inches in one of the few final events held today.

With Dillard the last man to take the baton legging it from behind for a :20.7 furlong, the Baldwin Wallace 880-yard relay foursome did the job in 1:26.6, four tenths of a second better than the Drake mark set by Baldwin Wallace last year.

Dillard, who set the world's record for the 120-yard high hurdles with a :13.6 achievement at last Sunday's Kansas relays, took his time winning his trial heat in that event today. He won his heat in :14.7, a tenth of a second slower than the :14.6 of Northwestern's Bill Porter in another heat.

HARRIS BLOCKS YANKS

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Mickey Harris, a sore armed flop last year, hurled the Boston Red Sox into the win column for the first time this season with a five-hit, 4-0 shutout that spoiled the New York Yankees' home opening today.

With the help of Commissioner A. B. Chandler and American League President Will Harridge, the Yanks hoisted the world championship pennant before the game. After that they raised little but pop flies to the dismay of 44,619 fans at the Yankee Stadium's silver anniversary.

Ted Williams, booed loudly on his first two trips, silenced his critics with a homer into the lower right field seats with nobody on in the fifth. It was his first of the year just eluding Tommy Heinrich's frantic leap. Box:

Chuck Fonville Sets Shot Mark At Penn Relays

Horace Ashenfelter Upset By Bob Black

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA, April 23 (INS)—Michigan's Chuck Fonville, who broke the world's shot put record with a lame back last week, was improved in health but sligthly sub-normal in performance today.

Ann Arbor's towering pre-dental student hit 56 feet even for a meet record at the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival. Then later in the day he lost the discus throw by a split inch at the very close of the event.

As a debut in the east, this ordinarily would be counted an eminently successful one. But, after Fonville's all time record 58 feet ¼ inch at the Kansas carnival last week, it came as a comparative let-down to the meager but noisy 5,000 occupying the opening day stands.

They looked for miracles—and got only a degree of excellence.

When Fonville hit the figure square on the mathematical pass in the shot put today, it was the eighth time this year that he'd done 56 feet or better.

Frank Wins Discus

Fonville almost made it a double-feature in the discus throw his 160 feet 1¼ inch led the field all the way up to the final fling of the day by Vic Frank of Yale.

Frank, in desperation, sent the saucer spinning out 160 feet 7 inches to save a title that had been widely conceded him in advance. Outside of that, however, Fonville didn't have much of a day.

Judged by the record book, neither did anybody else among the more than 3,000 competitors. Anyhow, only one other record fell during the general excitement.

This went to Brooklyn boys high in the 440-yard high school relay championship—first at 42.3 in the heats and later at 42 flat in the finals. Both were new national marks which displaced the 20 year record of 42.4, hung up by National High School, Glendale, Calif.

Meanwhile, the day's major upset was turned in when Bob Black, Rhode Island State, run away with the favorite, Horace Ashenfelter in the special two-mile.

Lions Cop Medley

The Penn State indoor champion was regarded as possible Olympic material in the pre-race figuring, but with the chips down, he was well run off by Black's ordinary 9:20.1 for the distance. The Nittany hope, however, had competed only 55 minutes earlier in the distance medley event, which went to Penn State in 10:15.1.

Tressler Is Favored To Beat Wolfe Monday

Johnny Tressler, local 205 pounder, has been installed the favorite to whip Big John Wolfe, 240-pounder, in one of the three - round matches to be present in St. Mary's A.C. amateur boxing show Monday night at the State Armory.

Clarence Jenkins, St. Mary's welterweight, will be matched with a 147-pounder of the Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh.

To Play Twin Bill

The Easy Aces will play the South End Pirates in a softball double-header today, commencing at 1 p. m. on Penn Avenue Field.

Allegany, Fort Hill And LaSalle Win Conference Games

Bruce's Single Gives AHS Win Over Hyndman

Nets Three In Fifth As Clingan Cops, 4-3

Erl "Lefty" Bruce's single to deep left field cleaned the bases in the fifth inning and enabled Allegany High School to come from behind and Edge Hyndman (Pa.) High School in the opening game of the Bi-State Baseball Conference yesterday at Campobello. The score was 4-3.

The victory was the fourth straight of the season for the Blue and White.

Hyndman jumped off to a three-run lead in the first inning but thereafter Jim Clingan shut out the visitors. Tom Harden got a life on an error and was forced at second by Cliff Clites. The latter scored the first run of the game on "Rich" Emerick's double. Ronnie Schad smacked out a two-bagger to score Emerick. After Jack Shaffer walked, Don Bush's single sent Schad home.

In the third Jack Devault singled, moved to second on an outfield error and scored Allegany's initial run on Jim McGregor's double. The next three batters went down in order.

Clingan flied to short to open the big fifth. After devault hit safely, McGregor flied to center. Ned Clopton was hit by a pitched ball and Devault took second. Davey Lewis walked, filling the bases. Then Bruce whistled a long hit to left and three runners crossed the platter on the blow.

The Pennsylvanians were limited to four hits, three of which came in the opening frame. Clingan whiffed nine and issued only one pass. Bush, who pitched 4⅔ innings for Hyndman and yielded all of Allegany's five safeties was the losing hurler.

Devault and Emerick paced the hitters with two safeties each. Box:

Fort Hill Sends Five To Elkins

Hahn Takes Quintet To Invitational Meet

Five Fort Hill High School track and field athletes will compete in the Elkins High School Invitational Meet today at Elkins, W. Va., Coach William P. Hahn announced last night.

Larry McKenzie, Edgar "Barney" Tucker, Leroy Cover, John Alderton and James Judd are the boys chosen to make the trip with Hahn. All of the athletes are juniors but Judd is a sophomore.

The Fort Hill quintet will likely compete in the 100, 220, 440, 880, high jump, broad jump and either the mile or medley relay.

Elkins High's invitational meet will attract such large schools as Charleston, Clarksburg, Morgantown, Fairmont and Beckley and the competition is sure to be keen.

Hahn feels that the trip will be good experience for the five undergraduates.

Murray Hardinger, who won the 440 yards dash and ran on the Fort Hill 880 yards relay team in Thursday's quadrangular meet came up with a touch of "shin splints" yesterday and will be lost to the track team temporarily at least.

Four well known Fort Hill football players have accepted invitations to visit colleges at different points today. Bill Treiber will be at West Virginia University, Ray Stevenson and Gary Moler are going to Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg, Va., and Don Sensabaugh will go to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis.

Cardinals Held To Two Safeties, Top Chicago, 1-0

Ralph LaPointe's Hit In 9th Decides Game

CHICAGO, April 23 (INS)—Cub southpaw Johnny Schmitz yielded only two hits today, but one of them, Ralph La Pointe's ninth-inning double with a mate on first, chased home the only run of the ball game to give Harry Brecheen and the St. Louis Cardinals a 1-0 victory.

A throng of 26,591 heartsore Chicagoans, assembled for the Cubs' first home appearance of the season, saw their favorites reach Brecheen for nine hits and put runners on third base four different times, twice with only one out—but all to no avail.

The Cards, meanwhile, had only Nippy Jones' fifth-inning single to show against Schmitz until the ninth, when Erv Dusak walked and La Pointe delivered his two-base hit.

BLACKWELL IS WINNER

CINCINNATI, April 23 (INS)—Stringy Ewell Blackwell cast his accustomed spell over the Pittsburgh Pirates today, although his Cincinnati mates had to overcome a three-run deficit before winning 5 to 3.

It taking his second decision of the year and his seventh straight over Pittsburgh, Blackwell yielded three Buc runs in the first two innings before the Reds could find the range.

This they did, however, with Johnny Wyrostek starting things with a fourth inning homer. Another run in the sixth and a two-run seventh, featured by Virgil Stallcup's double and Frank Baumholtz' single, were enough to chase Pirate starter Kirby Higbe and sew up the game for the Redlegs. Box:

Trout Season Opens In West Virginia

Streams In Nearby Counties Are Clear

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 23 (AP) — Given clear weather, West Virginia's fishermen will find near-ideal stream conditions for the opening of the annual trout season tomorrow at 6 a. m.

The weather bureau, however, predicted showers for tomorrow.

The Conservation Commission said today that only in Taylor County were trout waters high and muddy. Elsewhere the streams were rated from "good" to "excellent" for fishing.

At the same time, commission officials said that license sales for April of this year are running up to 20 percent above those for the same 1947 month, when a record number of anglers headed for the stream banks.

"Excellent" stream conditions were listed for Barbour, Tucker, Upshur, Randolph, Webster, Nicholas and Pocahontas counties. All streams were "clear" in Mercer, Monroe, Greenbrier, Pendleton, Grant, Hardy, Mineral, Hampshire, Marion, Berkeley and Jefferson counties.

"Good" conditions were reported for Preston, Monongalia, Wyoming, Fayette, Boone and Logan.

The season will continue through July 15.

Anglers, under commission regulations, are limited to 15 brook trout per day, or 100 per season. The minimum length is six inches.

The minimum length for brown and rainbow trout is seven inches. The creel limits are 10 per day or 100 per season for each, except that a total of not more than 15 of all species of trout shall be kept by one person in one day, or more than 10 rainbow and brown trout combined.

Records Tumble At Drake Relays

Blozis' Discus Mark Cracked By Gordien

DES MOINES, Ia. April 23—(INS)—Harrison Dillard, the nonpariel of hurdling, turned sprinter today and anchor-ran Baldwin Wallace's half mile relay team to one of two new collegiate marks in the classy Drake Relays.

The other mark to fall in this, the first of two days' battling in the 39th renewal of the Drake games, was the late Al Blozis' six-year-old discus record of 161.45 feet. This was ably amended today by Minnesota's Fortune Gordien, a lead-plated Olympic cinch, who whipped the plate 165 feet 5 inches in one of the few final events held today.

With Dillard the last man to take the baton legging it from behind for a :20.7 furlong, the Baldwin Wallace 880-yard relay foursome did the job in 1:26.6, four tenths of a second better than the Drake mark set by Baldwin Wallace last year.

Dillard, who set the world's record for the 120-yard high hurdles with a :13.6 achievement at last Sunday's Kansas relays, took his time winning his trial heat in that event today. He won his heat in :14.7, a tenth of a second slower than the :14.6 of Northwestern's Bill Porter in another heat.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 23 (AP) — Some of the nation's fanciest horse flesh began moving into Churchill Downs today in preparation for tomorrow's start of the spring meeting.

Early's Blow In 10th Defeats Lou Brissie

PHILADELPHIA, April 23 (INS)—The Washington Senators defeated the Philadelphia Athletics today in the Athletics' opening home season before 7,298 fans. The score was 5 to 3.

Two singles, a sacrifice and a double by Jake Early produced two Washington runs in the tenth.

Tom Ferrick, who relieved Walter Masterson, was the winner while Lou Brissie, who did the same for Bill McCahan, was the loser. Pete Suder hit his first home run of the season in the eighth inning. Box:

HARRIS BLOCKS YANKS

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Mickey Harris, a sore armed flop last year, hurled the Boston Red Sox into the win column for the first time this season with a five-hit, 4-0 shutout that spoiled the New York Yankees' home opening today.

With the help of Commissioner A. B. Chandler and American League President Will Harridge, the Yanks hoisted the world championship pennant before the game. After that they raised little but pop flies to the dismay of 44,619 fans at the Yankee Stadium's silver anniversary.

TRIBE BELTS DETROIT

DETROIT, April 23 (AP)—Led by the veteran Ken Keltner, who pasted two homers and drove in four runs, the Cleveland Indians belted the Detroit Tigers 8 to 2 today with a 15-hit attack good for 31 bases. The victory put Cleveland in first place in the American League.

Righthander Bob Lemon, pitching the Indians to their second victory in as many starts, scattered six Detroit hits while the Tribe was making hay at the expense of Freddie Hutchinson and two successors, humiliating the Tigers before 45,233 fans in their home opener. Box:

Explorers Take 9-4 Game At Frostburg

Pat Creegan's southpaw slants were working like a charm yesterday as Coach Art Garbark's LaSalle High School Explorers, defending champions, took the measure of Beall High School in the Bi-State Conference opener at Frostburg State Teachers' College Field. The score was 9-4.

Chuck Fonville Sets Shot Mark At Penn Relays

Horace Ashenfelter Upset By Bob Black

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA, April 23 (INS)—Michigan's Chuck Fonville, who broke the world's shot put record with a lame back last week, was improved in health but slightly sub-normal in performance today.

Ann Arbor's towering pre-dental student hit 56 feet even for a meet record at the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival. Then later in the day he lost the discus throw by a split inch at the very close of the event.

As a debut in the east, this ordinarily would be counted an eminently successful one, but, after Fonville's all time record 58 feet ¼ inch at the Kansas carnival last week, it came as a comparative let-down to the meager but noisy 5,000 occupying the opening day stands.

When Fonville hit the figure square on the mathematical pass in the shot put today, it was the eighth' time this year that he'd done 56 feet or better.

Frank Wins Discus

Fonville almost made it a double-feature in the discus throw his 160 feet 1¾ inch led the field all the way up to the final fling of the day by Vic Frank of Yale.

Frank, in desperation, sent the saucer spinning out 160 feet 7 inches to save a title that had been widely conceded him in advance. Outside of that, however, Fonville didn't have much of a day.

Judged by the record book, neither did anybody else among the more than 3,000 competitors. Anyhow, only one other record fell during the general excitement.

This went to Brooklyn boys high in the 440-yard high school relay championship—first at 42.3 in the heats and later at 42 flat in the finals. Both were new national marks which displaced the 20 year record of 42.4, hung up by National High School, Glendale, Calif.

Meanwhile, the day's major upset was turned in when Bob Black, Rhode Island State, ran away with the favorite, Horace Ashenfelter in the special two-mile.

Lions Cop Medley

The Penn State indoor champion was regarded as possible Olympic material in the pre-race figuring, but with the chips down, he was well run off by Black's ordinary 9:20.1 for the distance. The Nittany hope, however, had competed only 55 minutes earlier in the distance medley event, which went to Penn State in 10:15.1.

Tressler Is Favored To Beat Wolfe Monday

Johnny Tressler, local 205 pounder, has been installed the favorite to whip Big John Wolfe, 240-pounder, in one of the three-round matches to be present in St. Mary's A.C. amateur boxing show Monday night at the State Armory.

To Play Twin Bill

The Easy Aces will play the South End Pirates in a softball doubleheader today, commencing at 1 p. m. on Penn Avenue Field.

LASALLE WILL PLAY AT STITCHER FIELD

LaSalle High School's baseball team will play three games next week at Stitcher Field because of the fact that a carnival will be holding forth at Community Park throughout the week.

The Explorers will play Hyndman, Tuesday; Bruce High of Westernport, Wednesday, and Fort Hill on Friday.

Frostburg Lions Will Hold Ladies Night April 28

Local Talent Will Provide Entertainment

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG—The annual Ladies' Night dinner of the Frostburg Lions Club will be held Wednesday April 28, starting at 6:30 p. m. in the social hall of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, with City Commissioner-elect W. W. Sluss, Jr., president of the club, presiding.

A program consisting of local talent will be featured. Among the entertainers will be the Smith Triplets of Cumberland, and a male quartet consisting of William and Darrell Zeller, Sidney Green and Grant Hitchins.

Each lady attending the dinner will be presented with a gift. The committee arranging the affair consists of Pinkney Holmes, chairman; Earl Blough and Upton B. F. Edwards.

Band Fund Climbing

The Frostburg committee in charge of the campaign to raise $5,000 for the Arion Band received a report from Charles Schutz, committee treasurer, showing that $3,823.80 had been contributed to the fund up to 9 p. m. Thursday, leaving a balance of $1,176.20 to be collected to reach the goal of $5,000.

It was reported that several donations will be received in the near future, including the proceeds from the Swanee Minstrels held by the Men's Brotherhood of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, proceeds of a dinner given by the Frostburg Fire Department and $140 from the American Legion which has already donated $360

The committee decided to write to all past members of the band, requesting a donation and also to contact local civic and fraternal groups who have not given to the fund. It was reported Thursday evening that Frostburg Lodge No. 470, B.P.O Elks, will make a substantial donation to the fund.

Members of the Frostburg Lions Club, who started the drive several weeks ago, are asking that all citizens unite in the final effort to secure the $5,000 to enable the band to buy new uniforms and purchase additional music.

Honor Guard Is Praised

Frank T. Powers, commander of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion; Arch Baker, commander of John R. Fairgrieve Post No. 2462, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Francis Rafferty, commander of Braddock Post No. 9, Disabled American Veterans, received letters this week from Ralph O. Lungren, Washington, D. C., commending the honor guards of the three organizations for the impressive manner in which they conducted the funeral services of John M. and Joseph J. Grimes, brothers and members of the Second Division Association, who were killed in action in France and whose final rites were conducted here Saturday, April 17.

"I thought the whole event," Lundgren stated in his letter, "was admirable and your posts can indeed be proud that the services surpassed many that I have attended in Arlington National Cemetery. The firing squad was well trained and the musician's handling of Taps was most effective."

Twin Sons Christened

The twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Malloy, this city, were christened Sunday, April 18, in St. Michael's Catholic Church by Rev. Regis Larkin, assistant pastor. The infants were named James Allen and Lawrence Wheeler Malloy and were sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Malloy, Mt. Savage.

Following the ceremony a turkey dinner was served at the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Reidler, Mrs. Oliver B. Wittig, Anna Pearl Malloy and Earl Kalbaugh, Frostburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Malloy, Mt. Savage.

Frostburg Briefs

The Helping Hand Club of the Eckhart Methodist Church will hold a bake sale in the church basement Saturday, May 8, from 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. The members will also sponsor a Mothers' and Daughters' service in the church Wednesday, May 12, at 7:30 p. m. The club met Wednesday for a business meeting, devotions and refreshments. Mrs. Rose Adams and Mrs. Mary Bolt were the hostesses.

On account of repairs being made to the Church of the Brethren, the Sunday services will be held in the auditorium of Beall Elementary School. Sunday school will be at 10 a. m., Daylight Saving Time, and the morning service will be at 11 a. m., with Rev. Connell Chaney, conducting the service in the absence of the pastor, Rev. C. F. Bowman.

Frostburg Personals

J. J. Durst, local furniture dealer and undertaker, who fell and fractured his right hip Tuesday, is a patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland. Mr. Durst, who is 91, has been confined to his home with illness for the past year. He fell at his home Tuesday morning following an attack of dizziness.

TO BE WED — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geis, 138 Center Street, Frostburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Betty Lee Geis, to John Thomas Gaffney, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Gaffney, Sr., Tulsa, Okla. Midland Boy, 11, Lost Five Hours

By PEARL BLAIR

MIDLAND—The 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schury, Church Hill, was being kept a little closer to home last night, after being the subject of a five-hour search by over 100 persons Sunday afternoon and night.

Midland residents were called from their homes Sunday at 4 p. m. by a distress blast of the Volunteer Fire Company siren and conducted a search of the Klondike mountain section believing the boy strayed there.

He was later located in Shaft, where an unidentified youth reported taking him by bicycle after finding the child walking along the highway.

Badly frightened and suffering minor scratches the child was returned home at 9 p. m. and the search called off.

Physical Education Meeting Planned At Oakland Soon

Ferguson Will Be One Of Speakers

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND,—In order to give the five high school communities of the county an opportunity to learn more about the physical education program available in the state, the Oakland Boosters' Club has planned a special dinner meeting for Tuesday evening, May 4, at the William-James hotel, Oakland, at which time Dr. Thomas C. Ferguson, Baltimore, will be the speaker.

Dr. Ferguson is state supervisor of physical education and recreation and will discuss the possibilities of football for Maryland high schools and what is a good general physical education program.

Emeric Dusic, president of the Boosters, said the club was organized to promote athletics for Oakland High School, and to maintain an interest in seeing that O.H.S. students be given an opportunity to organize varsity football, basketball, baseball, soccer and track teams with adequate facilities and equipment to participate in all these sports. He added that the club members also were interested in such a program within the school itself so each student can have equal opportunity for physical education and recreation.

Because the local group felt that the five communities having high schools would be interested, President Dusic is having letters mailed to the high school principals, inviting from each school the principal, boys' and girls' coaches, one boy athlete and one girl athlete, preferably from the junior class; P-TA presidents or representatives, a former high school athlete, man or woman, from each community who is interested in sports, any additional teacher or pupil representative and any additional adult representative from the community.

Dusic said the club also was inviting members of the Board of Education, County Commissioners, County P-TA Council officers, State Senator L. M. Fraley, members of the House of Delegates, superintendent and assistant superintendent of schools, and a limited number of Oakland Booster Club members. Reservations must be in by Saturday, May 2.

A program consisting of local talent will be featured. Among the entertainers will be the Smith Triplets of Cumberland, and a male quartet consisting of William and Darrell Zeller, Sidney Green and Grant Hitchins.

Each lady attending the dinner will be presented with a gift. The committee arranging the affair consists of Pinkney Holmes, chairman; Earl Blough and Upton B. F. Edwards.

Band Fund Climbing

The Frostburg committee in charge of the campaign to raise $5,000 for the Arion Band received a report from Charles Schutz, committee treasurer, showing that $3,823.80 had been contributed to the fund up to 9 p. m. Thursday, leaving a balance of $1,176.20 to be collected to reach the goal of $5,000.

It was reported that several donations will be received in the near future, including the proceeds from the Swanee Minstrels held by the Men's Brotherhood of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, proceeds of a dinner given by the Frostburg Fire Department and $140 from the American Legion which has already donated $360

The committee decided to write to all past members of the band, requesting a donation and also to contact local civic and fraternal groups who have not given to the fund. It was reported Thursday evening that Frostburg Lodge No. 470, B.P.O Elks, will make a substantial donation to the fund.

Members of the Frostburg Lions Club, who started the drive several weeks ago, are asking that all citizens unite in the final effort to secure the $5,000 to enable the band to buy new uniforms and purchase additional music.

Midland Boy, 11, Lost Five Hours

By PEARL BLAIR

MIDLAND—The 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schury, Church Hill, was being kept a little closer to home last night, after being the subject of a five-hour search by over 100 persons Sunday afternoon and night.

Midland residents were called from their homes Sunday at 4 p. m. by a distress blast of the Volunteer Fire Company siren and conducted a search of the Klondike mountain section believing the boy strayed there.

He was later located in Shaft, where an unidentified youth reported taking him by bicycle after finding the child walking along the highway.

Badly frightened and suffering minor scratches the child was returned home at 9 p. m. and the search called off.

Physical Education Meeting Planned At Oakland Soon

Ferguson Will Be One Of Speakers

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND.—In order to give the five high school communities of the county an opportunity to learn more about the physical education program available in the state, the Oakland Boosters' Club has planned a special dinner meeting for Tuesday evening, May 4, at the William-James hotel, Oakland, at which time Dr. Thomas C. Ferguson, Baltimore, will be the speaker.

Dr. Ferguson is state supervisor of physical education and recreation and will discuss the possibilities of football for Maryland high schools and what is a good general physical education program.

Emeric Dusic, president of the Boosters, said the club was organized to promote athletics for Oakland High School, and to maintain an interest in seeing that O.H.S. students be given an opportunity to organize varsity football, basketball, baseball, soccer and track teams with adequate facilities and equipment to participate in all these sports. He added that the .club members also were interested in such a program within the school itself so each student can have equal opportunity for physical education and recreation.

Because the local group felt that the five communities having high schools would be interested, President Dusic is having letters mailed to the high school principals, inviting from each school the principal, boys' and girls' coaches, one boy athlete and one girl athlete, preferably from the junior class; P-TA presidents or representatives, a former high school athlete, man or woman, from each community who is interested in sports, any additional teacher or pupil representative and any additional adult representative from the community.

Dusic said the club also was inviting members of the Board of Education, County Commissioners, County P-TA Council officers, State Senator L. M. Fraley, members of the House of Delegates, superintendent and assistant superintendent of schools, and a limited number of Oakland Booster Club members. Reservations must be in by Saturday, May 2.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, April 23—(INS)—Johnny Weissmuller is saying goodbye to "Tarzan"—but not to the jungle. The grunt-and-yell boy starts a brand-new series, "Jungle Jim," based on the popular King Features cartoon with a deal already closed with Columbia to release.

Johnny Weissmuller

As "Jungle Jim," Johnny will talk instead of grunt, and will wear more clothes than a pair of leopard skin shorts. Frankly, this type of movie is Weissmuller's meat (also his salary) and he wouldn't be as popular with the kids in anything else.

Johnny says the idea for the new series comes from his co-producer, Sam Katzman, who bought the rights from King Features Syndicate and sold the deal to Weissmuller over the telephone before they ever met. In fact, it was just a few days ago they got together for lunch and signed the contracts.

Ever since I printed that Vera Ralston was to star in a story about a woman who never grows old, I have been interested in that picture. What woman wouldn't be? Sounds like a dream come true—but on the other hand, perpetual youth would be an awful wear and team.

Now, Republic has corralled one of their most expensive casts for this opus with the puzzling title "Drums Along the Amazon." (What's that got to do with the fountain of youth?)

In addition to Vera, Brian Aherne, George Brent, Constance Bennett, Fortunio Bonanova and Alfonso Bedoya will emote in the movie. and that is some cast for the little valley studio—or any other for that matter.

There are two reasons why Hedy is listening to the offer made her by Warners. One is that she has never been in technicolor, and she would love to make a picture in color. The other is that Danny Kaye is one of her favorite comedians, and she would love to do a comedy.

She hasn't yet read the script of "Happy Days," but if the part gives her any sort of a chance she will be the glamor girl Danny and his producer, Jerry Wald, have been looking for, for his first Warner movie.

Just when George Jessel starts going out with other gals and we think his romance with Tommye Adams is yesterday's news, something happens. The "something" this time is that Tommye, who is a very pretty girl and really in love with Georgie, has gone to New York to play in "The Vigil," a story backed by George Jessel and 20th Century-Fox.

Tommye plays the "bad girl" and the lead is played by Maria Palmer whose career was never what she hoped for in Hollywood, but perhaps will be all right on the stage. Henry Wilcoxon, a very good actor, is the male star.

Kay Christopher, 23-year-old actress, has been signed as the heroine of the Roy Rogers westerns. I suppose that means that Dale Evans, who has been his star all these years, will go into pictures as a star. That was the plan right after she married the cowboy hero. Republic apparently thinks the husband and wife idea isn't too good for their cowboy hero.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at Random:

Mrs. John Wildberg has just returned from Reno where she received her divorce from the producer of "Anna Lucasta." She goes to Long Beach to visit her mother.

Diana Garrett, the starlet, underwent an emergency appendectomy a few days ago at Cedars of Lebanon.

Norma Shearer and Marty Arrouge are expected from Switzerland in two weeks. They will return to Europe for the Olympic games, taking Katherine Thalberg with them. Irving is in school in Switzerland.

The Icecapades, bigger and better than ever, played to a full house opening night. Sonja Henie, queen of the ice, was in a ringside seat, getting her share of attention. Anna Miller, the Harold Lloyds, Barry Fitzgerald, Sydney Greenstreet, June Allyson and Dick Powell, Loretta Young and Linda Darnell were in the audience.

Andrea Leeds pulled a really good surprise party on Bob Howard on his birthday, Monday night. She showed "The Winner's Circle," the Richard Polimer picture in which Bob, believe me, is very good. She put searchlights up, had a group of kids parked around the house asking for Bob's autograph, and did it all in great style.

Errol Flynn gave them plenty to talk about when he walked on the Paramount lot today. He was not there to talk about making a picture, but merely to visit his pal, Bruce Cabot, in "Sorrowful Jones."

Steve Crane and Lila Leeds a surprising dinner twosome at the Somerset House. At last reports they weren't even on speaking terms.

Veterans Should File

While it may be to the veteran's advantage to act promptly, there is no time limit for filing claims for disability compensation, W. A. Burns, Officer-in-Charge of the Veterans Administration Cumberland office, reminded Maryland ex-servicemen today.

An ex-serviceman may apply for disability compensation at any time during his life under existing regulations, Mr. Burns said. If a veteran is drawing compensation and the disability for which he is receiving money gets worse, he may file a claim for an increase in compensation, the VA official added.

Pointing to the advantage of filing claims promptly, Mr. Burns said that when claims for compensation are approved, payments may be made retroactive to the date of filing. Where a claim is filed within one year of the date of separation from active military service, payments may be made retroactive to the date of separation.

Veterans who think they are eligible for disability compensation may secure assistance in filing their claims if they will visit the Veterans Administration Office.

Testimony Ends On TWUA Issues

Testimony was completed here Thursday on three issues submitted to arbitration by Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, and the Celanese Corporation of America. The hearings were held in the court house before Sidney A. Wolfe, New York arbitrator.

The first two cases involved the Harris and Stratton suspensions.

The third resulted from a technological change in the twisting examination department after a case marker job was eliminated and a tabulation machine was installed and operated by a staff worker.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, April 23—(INS)—Johnny Weissmuller is saying goodbye to "Tarzan"—but not to the jungle. The grunt-and-yell boy starts a brand-new series, "Jungle Jim," based on the popular King Features cartoon with a deal already closed with Columbia to release.

Johnny Weissmuller

As "Jungle Jim," Johnny will talk instead of grunt, and will wear more clothes than a pair of leopard skin shorts. Frankly, this type of movie is Weissmuller's meat (also his salary) and he wouldn't be as popular with the kids in anything else.

Johnny says the idea for the new series comes from his co-producer, Sam Katzman, who bought the rights from King Features Syndicate and sold the deal to Weissmuller over the telephone before they ever met. In fact, it was just a few days ago they got together for lunch and signed the contracts.

Ever since I printed that Vera Ralston was to star in a story about a woman who never grows old, I have been interested in that picture. What woman wouldn't be? Sounds like a dream come true—but on the other hand, perpetual youth would be an awful wear and team.

Now, Republic has corralled one of their most expensive casts for this opus with the puzzling title "Drums Along the Amazon." (What's that got to do with the fountain of youth?)

In addition to Vera, Brian Aherne, George Brent, Constance Bennett, Fortunio Bonanova and Alfonso Bedoya will emote in the movie, and that is some cast for the little valley studio—or any other for that matter.

There are two reasons why Hedy is listening to the offer made her by Warners. One is that she has never been in technicolor, and she would love to make a picture in color. The other is that Danny Kaye is one of her favorite comedians, and she would love to do a comedy.

She hasn't yet read the script of "Happy Days," but if the part gives her any sort of a chance she will be the glamor girl Danny and his producer, Jerry Wald, have been looking for, for his first Warner movie.

Just when George Jessel starts going out with other gals and we think his romance with Tommye Adams is yesterday's news, something happens. The "something" this time is that Tommye, who is a very pretty girl and really in love with Georgie, has gone to New York to play in "The Vigil," a story backed by George Jessel and 20th Century-Fox.

Tommye plays the "bad girl" and the lead is played by Maria Palmer whose career was never what she hoped for in Hollywood, but perhaps will be all right on the stage. Henry Wilcoxon, a very good actor, is the male star.

Kay Christopher, 23-year-old actress, has been signed as the heroine of the Roy Rogers westerns. I suppose that means that Dale Evans, who has been his star all these years, will go into pictures as a star. That was the plan right after she married the cowboy hero. Republic apparently thinks the husband and wife idea isn't too good for their cowboy hero.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at Random:

Mrs. John Wildberg has just returned from Reno where she received her divorce from the producer of "Anna Lucasta." She goes to Long Beach to visit her mother.

Diana Garrett, the starlet, underwent an emergency appendectomy a few days ago at Cedars of Lebanon.

Norma Shearer and Marty Arrouge are expected from Switzerland in two weeks. They will return to Europe for the Olympic games, taking Katherine Thalberg with them. Irving is in school in Switzerland.

The Icecapades, bigger and better than ever, played to a full house opening night. Sonja Henie, queen of the ice, was in a ringside seat, getting her share of attention. Anna Miller, the Harold Lloyds, Barry Fitzgerald, Sydney Greenstreet, June Allyson and Dick Powell, Loretta Young and Linda Darnell were in the audience.

Andrea Leeds pulled a really good surprise party on Bob Howard on his birthday, Monday night. She showed "The Winner's Circle," the Richard Polimer picture in which Bob, believe me, is very good. She put searchlights up, had a group of kids parked around the house asking for Bob's autograph, and did it all in great style.

Errol Flynn gave them plenty to talk about when he walked on the Paramount lot today. He was not there to talk about making a picture, but merely to visit his pal, Bruce Cabot, in "Sorrowful Jones."

Steve Crane and Lila Leeds a surprising dinner twosome at the Somerset House. At last reports they weren't even on speaking terms.

Relay Games To Be Airwaved By Two Networks

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, April 23—Two of the country's annual relay games—outdoor—will be made available for network description on Saturday afternoon. They are the Drake at Des Moines and the Penn at Philadelphia.

NBC's Bill Stern is to talk the Drake games in two periods, 4 and 5 p. m., each a half-hour, in which a total of four races are to be detailed.

The CBS list will have Bill Campbell to relate activities at Penn, 4:15 and 5, the first program 15 minutes and the other 30.

Morton Downey, 11:15 singer on MBS, bids goodbye to his network followers in preparation for a South American tour. After that he will switch to NBC, beginning June 8, same sponsor.

The Southern Symphony of Columbia, S. C., is making its annual broadcast on NBC's Orchestras of the Nation hor at 3. Al Gollodoro, clarinet, is the soloist with the Symphony hour of ABC at 3. Romberg's "Blossom Time" is the operetta for the Chicago Theater of the Air at MBS for 10.

The Suspense drama hour gets back on CBS at 8 for another presentation. Let's Pretend, also CBS but at 11:05 a. m., will have the allegory "Castle of Hatred" for the 12th annual time. Public Affairs on NBC at 12:15 p. m. will observe YMCA week. A national boys' and girls' week program with Robert Young is to come to Hollywood for ABC at 10:30. There will be a dramatization.

Monthly Collection Of Paper To Start

Cumberland's monthly paper collection will get underway Monday, it was announced Friday, with pickups scheduled that day at LaVale, Potomac Park, Bowling Green, Bedford Road from Nave's Crossroads to State Line and Baltimore Pike to Miller's Service Station.

Tips To Speed Dish Washing

Homemakers prepare and serve well over a thousand meals a year. Besides all the time spent in cooking, these meals result in many, many hours of dishwashing. Here are a number of ways to simplify the task of washing dishes:

1. Use convenient equipment. A porcelain enameled dishpan will not mar the sink and is very easy to clean. A rubber-coated dish drainer, a bottle brush, a rubber-tipped plate scraper and a sink strainer are other aids to efficient dishwashing.

2. Store dishwashing equipment and supplies, such as soap and towels, as near the sink as possible.

3. Use a tray to carry dishes from the table to the sink. Scrape and rinse the dishes and stack them neatly at one side of the sink.

4. Measure soap into the dishpan, add hot water and whip up a thick, lasting suds.

5. Wash dishes, using either a soft cloth or a dish mop. The usual washing order is: glassware, silver, china, and last, the pots and pans.

6. Rinse with hot water and arrange in the dish drainer.

7. Save time by allowing the china to drain dry. Only the silverware and fine glassware need be wiped with a towel.

Even the task of washing pots and pans may be simplified. Whenever possible, use porcelain enameled utensils in the preparation of food. They have a glossy finish that is amazingly easy to keep clean and new looking. To speed the washing of pots and pans:

1. Rinse cooking utensils immediately after using. Put to soak those which do not rinse clean. Before washing, discard soaking water and remove loosened bits of food with a rubber scraper.

2. Empty grease from frying or baking pans while it is still warm. Then wipe with paper toweling and rinse with warm water.

3. Wash utensils in warm, soapy water and rinse with hot water. Porcelain enameled utensils may be allowed to drain dry.

Monthly Collection Of Paper To Start

Cumberland's monthly paper collection will get underway Monday, it was announced Friday, with pickups scheduled that day at LaVale, Potomac Park, Bowling Green, Bedford Road from Nave's Crossroads to State Line and Baltimore Pike to Miller's Service Station.

Tips To Speed Dish Washing

Homemakers prepare and serve well over a thousand meals a year. Besides all the time spent in cooking, these meals result in many, many hours of dishwashing. Here are a number of ways to simplify the task of washing dishes:

1. Use convenient equipment. A porcelain enameled dishpan will not mar the sink and is very easy to clean. A rubber-coated dish drainer, a bottle brush, a rubber-tipped plate scraper and a sink strainer are other aids to efficient dishwashing.
2. Store dishwashing equipment and supplies, such as soap and towels, as near the sink as possible.
3. Use a tray to carry dishes from the table to the sink. Scrape and rinse the dishes and stack them neatly at one side of the sink.
4. Measure soap into the dishpan, add hot water and whip up a thick, lasting suds.
5. Wash dishes, using either a soft cloth or a dish mop. The usual washing order is: glassware, silver, china, and last, the pots and pans.
6. Rinse with hot water and arrange in the dish drainer.
7. Save time by allowing the china to drain dry. Only the silverware and fine glassware need be wiped with a towel.

Even the task of washing pots and pans may be simplified. Whenever possible, use porcelain enameled utensils in the preparation of food. They have a glossy finish that is amazingly easy to keep clean and new looking. To speed the washing of pots and pans:

1. Rinse cooking utensils immediately after using. Put to soak those which do not rinse clean. Before washing, discard soaking water and remove loosened bits of food with a rubber scraper.
2. Empty grease from frying or baking pans while it is still warm. Then wipe with paper toweling and rinse with warm water.
3. Wash utensils in warm, soapy water and rinse with hot water. Porcelain enameled utensils may be allowed to drain dry.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Joseph Perrye and Mary J. Perrye, his wife, vs. Glendon A. Metz, and Mattie A. Metz, his wife, No. 20642 Equity in the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to secure the adoption by the petitioners of Edward Charles Metz, infant son of the Defendants.

The Petition states that the Adoptors were married in 1937 and have lived in Cumberland, Maryland for more than eight years, that they have had in their possession for the past several weeks the infant son, Edward Charles Metz, and that they have had born to them no children of their own marriage, have become deeply attached to the child, and wish to adopt the boy. That Mattie A. Metz abandoned her husband's home and her children on March 15, 1948, and has not been seen or heard of since that date. That the Defendant, Glendon A. Metz is a resident of the state of Maryland, but that the Defendant, Mattie A. Metz, his wife, is a non-resident of the state of Maryland, and when last heard of, was supposed to have been in the state of West Virginia.

It is thereupon, this 23rd day of April, 1948, ORDERED by the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that a copy of this order be inserted in one of the daily newspapers published in Allegany County, Maryland, once each week for four successive weeks, before the 25th day of May, 1948, giving notification to the said Mattie A. Metz of the object and substance of this suit, and warning her to be and appear in Court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 10th day of June, 1948, to show cause if any she may have why the decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Cumberland, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Donald L. Rockwell, and Virginia N. Rockwell, his wife, vs. Glendon A. Metz, and Mattie A. Metz, his wife, No. 20640 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to secure the adoption by the Petitioners, of Barbara Ann Metz, infant daughter, of the above entitled Defendants.

The Petition states that the Complainants were married in August, 1942, and have had no children born to them of their marriage, that they have had in their possession the infant child for the past several weeks, have become deeply attached to it, and now wish to adopt her. That the Defendant, Mattie A. Metz abandoned her husband and children on March 15, 1948, and has not been seen or heard of since, but rumor has it that she is in West Virginia; that Glendon A. Metz, is a resident of the state of Maryland, and has been such a resident for more than two years before the bringing of this suit. The adopters are also residents of the state of Maryland.

IT IS thereupon this 23rd day of April, 1948, ORDERED, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that a copy of this order be inserted in one of our daily newspapers published in Allegany County, once each week, for four successive weeks, before the 25th day of May, 1948, giving notification to the absentee Defendant, Mattie A. Metz, of the object and substance of this suit, and warning her to be and appear in this Court, in person, or by solicitor on or before the 10th day of June, 1948, to show cause if any she may have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

The object of this suit is to secure the adoption by the petitioners of Glendon A. Metz, Jr., infant son born to the Defendants.

The Petition states that the couple were married in 1934, are residents of the state of Maryland, and have no children born to them of their marriage; that they have had the infant son of the Defendants in their possession for the past several weeks, have become deeply attached to it, and now wish to adopt him. That the Defendant, Mattie A. Metz, left and abandoned her home and children on March 15, 1948, and has not been seen or heard of since, except that rumor has it that she is in West Virginia. That the Defendant Glendon A. Metz is a resident of the state of Maryland.

IT is thereupon this 23rd day of April, 1948, ORDERED by the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that a copy of this order be inserted in one of the daily newspapers published in Allegany County, once each week for four successive weeks, before the 25th day of May, 1948, giving notification to the absentee Mattie A. W. Md. Railway Plans On Financing Indefinite

BALTIMORE, April 23. — (AP) — President Eugene S. Williams of the Western Maryland Railway said today nothing "definite" was in prospect regarding a possible re-capitalization move broached by "some minority stockholders."

Financial circles heard of such a possibility in the wake of a Wednesday meeting of the road's directors. Sources close to the carrier reported a discussion on possible refinancing had developed among certain stockholders.

Certain minority shareholders, he said, talked over the possibility of eliminating an accumulation of about $136.50 arrearage of dividends on first preferred stock.

The railroad president said the carrier had for some time considered elimination of the arrearage through a possible change in the capital stock setup.

Another matter studied, he said, was "the question of the maturity on October 1, 1952, of the company's first mortgage bonds in excess of $44,000,000."

No specific plans have been formulated in either case, Williams declared.

W. Md. Railway Plans On Financing Indefinite

BALTIMORE, April 23. — (AP) — President Eugene S. Williams of the Western Maryland Railway said today nothing "definite" was in prospect regarding a possible re-capitalization move broached by "some minority stockholders."

Financial circles heard of such a possibility in the wake of a Wednesday meeting of the road's directors. Sources close to the carrier reported a discussion on possible refinancing had developed among certain stockholders.

Certain minority shareholders, he said, talked over the possibility of eliminating an accumulation of about $136.50 arrearage of dividends on first preferred stock.

Under the present setup, this money would have to be paid before junior stockholders receive any dividends.

The railroad president said the carrier had for some time considered elimination of the arrearage through a possible change in the capital stock setup.

Another matter studied, he said, was "the question of the maturity on October 1, 1952, of the company's first mortgage bonds in excess of $44,000,000."

No specific plans have been formulated in either case, Williams declared.

Political Parties Avoid Primaries On Convention

Democrats, Labor, GOP Withdraw Candidates

In an effort to promote party harmony and avoid a Primary contest for convention seats, members of the State Central Committees of the Republican and Democratic parties and labor factions agreed yesterday and each side withdrew an equal number of candidates.

Labor and organization leaders discussed the situation amicably and agreed that the best interest of both parties could be attained by avoiding any intra-party contests over convention seats.

Labor had filed four candidates for Democratic convention seats and four for Republictn convention seats. The Democrats and Republicans had each filed seven party regulars. Only seven can be elected to each convention.

Regulars nominated by the Republicans included Victor M. Hebb, Robert M. Grove, John W. Hanna, Marshall C. Skidmore, William Stewart, Estel C. Kelley and Robert C. Pollock.

It was announced last night by Paul M. Fletcher, local Republican party leader, that Kelley, Pollock, Castle and Ziegler had withdrawn, avoiding a Republican Primary.

J. Glenn Beall, Republican candidate for re-election as congressman from the Sixth District, is also unopposed.

As a result of the Democratic pow wow the seven convention candidates, William C. Wash, John J. McMullen, Dr. W. Olive McLane, William L. Wilson, Jr., Simon F. Reilly, Playford Aldridge and Ralph C. Beard, are nominated without a contest.

Those whose names have been withdrawn are John G. Thomas and James F. Martin, of the "labor" group, and Patrick J. Stakem and James E. Kenney of the "regulars."

In announcing that labor was filing candidates for convention seats early this month, Aldridge said labor desired to work within the two-party system but wanted a real voice in problems.

Allegany county's Democratic State Central Commission has decided against endorsing any of the four candidates for the party's Sixth District Congressional nomination in the May 3 Primary it was indicated here last night.

The Democratic party's failure to endorse any of the four congressional candidates left this race wide open, except for the endorsement of Will Allen of Bethesda by a number of labor organizations.

The other three Democratic aspirants are F. Byrne Austin, Takoma Park, one-time secretry to the late Congressman William Byron; Thomas O'Connell, Silver Spring, and Dawson J. Horine, Myersville.

All but Horine, a Frederick countian, are from Montgomery County. Montgomery County, like Allegany, has definitely declined to take sides in the contest. Washington and Garrett counties are also in the district.

11 Area Men Join Md. State Police

Eleven area men, eight from Cumberland, were commissioned into the ranks of the Maryland State Police after being graduated from training school at Fort George G. Meade. The men, all veterans of World War II, are:

John G. Biades, a former lieutenant (jg) in the Navy air arm; Russell W. Harrison, former corporal in the Air Force; Kenneth K. Robey, former corporal in the Infantry; James H. Rouzee, former sergeant in the Air Force; John C. Sheetz, a former master sergeant in the Air Force; William D. Thomas, aviation cadet in the Air Forces; Maynard J. Whitney, a corporal in the Army, and Robert D. Wolford, a corporal in an armored division.

Three other Allegany countians are also among the graduates. They are Charles F. Gowans, Lonaconing, corporal at an Army hospital; David A. Lauder, Lonaconing, corporal in an Anti-Aircraft Artillery battalion, and Patrick J. Stakem, Westernport, sergeant in a bombardment squadron of the Air Forces.

Woods Fire Reported In Stoney Run Area

The first forest fire reported in the county for several days occurred yesterday afternoon in the Stoney Run area, near Westernport, according to Brook Bodkin, senior forest supervisor.

Bodkin said the fire was reported by Wilmont Harmon, forest patrolman, who said it was extinguished after burning over about an acre. The cause was not immediately determined.

Two Men Are Held For Investigation

Two Allegany County men were being held in City Jail last night for investigation and police said they will probably be questioned this morning.

Harry Stewart, Flintstone, was arrested at 5:35 a. m. and William Bittner, 77 Armstrong Street, Frostburg, was arrested yesterday at 1:28 p. m.

The Weather

It may be a bit cloudy today, says the ol' weatherman, but you can expect it to be much warmer than Friday, when the mercury hit a peak of 70 degrees. The minimum for the night was 34 degrees but warmed up enough to send the mercury to 47 degrees by 8 a. m. while at 10 o'clock last night, the thermometer stood at 50 and was holding steady. The long range forecast for the weekend calls for considerable cloudiness and warmer, with showers likely at different intervals.

County May Abandon Union St. Site And Fire-Gutted Building

Commissioners Air Problem Informally

County commissioners at their regular meeting yesterday spent considerable time in an informal discussion of the Union Street County Building fire and the possible location of county offices housed there.

Commissioners indicated no immediate plans have been developed for rebuilding or replacing the structure, but it appeared quite possible that the fire-gutted structure might be razed and the land offered for sale, with the county abandoning the site.

Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the Board, appeared of the opinion that an addition might be made to the Court House to accommodate the state's attorney, county engineer's office and Trial Magistrates Court, the only three county offices for which the Board is actually responsible for housing.

William H. Lemmert, board member, expressed the view that an addition to the Court House would not be the proper answer. "In fact," Lemmert said, "with three new school buildings to be constructed in the county, and with space available in the old Cumberland Street School building," he believes it would just be an added tax burden to build a Court House addition, or another county office building at this time.

Site Termed Valuable

Board members agreed that the site of the fire-gutted structure is a valuable one, and might be sold to some local or out of town concern interested in a downtown business location. However, the attorney to the board stated the land cannot be sold by County Commissioners without a special act of legislature.

DEATHS

JOHN H. PORTER

John H. Porter, 59, a former member of the Cumberland Fire Department, died yesterday morning at his home, 1320 Thirtieth Street, San Diego, Cal.

Mr. Porter, who had been in failing health for several years, retired as a pipeman from Central Fire Department six years ago and went to California to reside.

He entered the fire department September 28, 1915, and retired in February, 1942. Although he had been stationed at Central throughout his career, he had worked during vacations at all four of the fire houses and was well known in all sections of Cumberland.

His last visit here was in September, 1946, when he returned for a brief visit to see relatives and friends.

Fellow firemen described Mr. Porter as an "all round man" and said he was always on hand where the "smoke was thick and the going hard." For many years, firemen said, he served as tillerman on Central's aerial ladder.

A native of Mt. Savage, he was born October 27, 1888, a son of the late John and Mary Porter.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary Dowlan Porter; five daughters, Mrs. George Lohrengel, China; Mrs. F. J. Cage and Mrs. Elvin Foster, San Diego; Mrs. E. Steed, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Hubert Thornton, Baton Rouge, La., and three grandchildren.

His stepfather, J. A. Meyers, this city, and three sisters, Mrs. Victor Shaffer, Mrs. J. J. Bender and Mrs. Statten Hoyle, all of this city, also survive.

THOMAS BENNETT RITES

A funeral service for Thomas William Bennett, 63, a Pennsylvania Railroad conductor, who died early yesterday morning at his home in Ellerslie, will be conducted Monday at 2:30 p. m. in Ellerslie Evangelical Church.

Rev. W. J. Lloyd, pastor and Rev. Raymond Crowe, pastor of Ellerslie Methodist Church, will oficiate and burial will be in Palo Alto Cemetery.

Local Driver Is Freed On Charge In Fatal Mishap

Coroner's Jury Absolves Sonner

A Cumberland truck driver, Harold B. Sonner, yesterday was absolved of blame in the death of Bonnie Lee Beegle, 7, RFD 3, Bedford Pa., who was struck and fatally injured near her home on the outskirts of Bedford March 27.

Sonner, who police said was operating a truck for the S. T. Brotemarkle Construction Company, Cumberland, was technically charged with involuntary manslaughter and released on bond by Pennsylvania State Police.

At the time of the accident investigating authorities said the child darted from in back of a mail truck into the path of the truck operated by Sonner.

Relatives said the girl had crossed the road in front of her home to get several pieces of mail from a rural letter carrier and was returning to the house when she was struck.

After the accident Sonner was questioned for several hours by Pennsylvania authorities and then released on bond pending the action of the corner's jury.

A second driver involved in a fatal accident yesterday was ordered held on a manslaughter charge as the corner's jury examined evidence in a two-car collision near Osterburg, Pa., March 20, in which Harry Mock, Everett, Pa., was killed.

Harry G. Yingling, Osterburg, was ordered held for action of the May term of Bedford County grand jury after police identified him as the driver of the second car involved in the accident.

A charge of involuntary manslaughter preferred by the Pennsylvania State Police was supported by the findings of the coroner's jury, according to authorities. Yingling is at present free on bond.

A county-wide search was being pressed last night for an unidentified man who police said was frightened away after attempting to breat into and enter the Corriganville Post Office.

The would-be intruder, according to Trooper William McElfish, broke the glass in the rear door of the Post Office and general store building Thursday night at 9:40 o'clock.

Donald H. Brant, who resides near the combination general store and fourth class Post Office, operated by Mrs. Barbara Irene Lowery, said he heard a noise and went to investigate.

Some Traversers To Be Arraigned Today

A total of 19 indictments returned by the Grand Jury makes up the criminal docket. It appeared possible, some Court attaches said, that there would be no criminal trials this term, but a couple of accused had not fully indicated whether they would prefer to be heard before the Court or before a jury.

In any event, the Court appeared to believe that criminal trials will be of short duration, since criminal appeals are scheduled for Tuesday and civil trials are scheduled to resume Wednesday.

It all started when Joseph Arnone, Eckhart, reported to police that he lost his wallet allegedly containing $749. The report started a good deal of talk about town.

Officer George Tippen who was off duty was standing along the street when he overheard he talk. Later he walked back to his home and was told by Mrs. Tippen that she had found a wallet containing $749 on Water Street.

Mrs. Tippen said since her husband was a policeman she couldn't think of a better person to inform of the find.

County Board To Discuss Federal Aid On Roads

Plan To Meet With Highway Chairman

County commissioners plan to meet with Robert M. Reindollar, chairman of the State Roads Commission next Wednesday in Baltimore, to discuss the program of federal aid in building county roads.

Reindollar wrote the commissioners explaining that in view of suggested projects under the Federal Aid Plan, the county would have to place in the hands of the State Roads Commission, a total of $134,827.41 in order to provide necessary matching funds to earn its allocated share of federal funds for the three-year period, as covered by the Federal Highway Act of 1944.

Commissioners object to the three-year outlay of money in advance, and believe the present board should not obligate the county beyond the term of office of present commissioners.

Charles N. Wilkinson, board president, further explained that the Federal Aid Program requires road building specifications far in excess of necessary requirements based upon traffic flow on roads in question. By reducing specifications and building cheaper roads, the county can construct more miles of hard surfaced and secondary roads with its own funds than would be possible under the Federal Aid plan and state highway specifications.

Commissioners hope to reach some compromise agreement with Reindollar in an effort to get the benefit of the Federal Aid, but indicated they are opposed to the program in its present form.

The Board yesterday passed a resolution calling attention to the Daylight Saving Time beginning Sunday, and urging all county residents to co-operate as far as convenient and feasible.

Daylight Saving Time To Make Debut Sunday

Cumberland area residents will set their watches and clocks up one hour before retiring tonight as Daylight Saving Time goes into effect throughout Allegany County.

A quick survey last night indicated all plants and business houses will observe the "fast time" which is scheduled to start at 2 a. m. Sunday.

Employes of the Baltimore and Ohio and Western Maryland railroads have all agreed to observe the new time, while the car shop at Keyser of the B. and O. will continue their operations on slow time.

Ministers of the gospel are waiting with anxiety the morning church services and are wondering if there will be a duplication of last year when many church goers failed to get up with the new time, leaving many church pews empty, and late arrivers surprised that church was over.

Citizens Reminded Of Registration Day Next Tuesday

Concerted Efforts Being Made In County

Work has been underway all week in the office of the Board of Election Supervisors at the Court House in preparation for the county-wide registration day Tuesday and the Primary election May 3.

Patrick F. King, clerk to the board said that over 4,000 persons, whose names were stricken from the polling books for failure to vote within the past five years, have been notified by mail that they must register Tuesday if they wish to cast ballots in the primary election.

Dates of two other registration days before the general election are set as October 4 and October 11.

King stated all the election books for the county have been completely and neatly transcribed, and the names of persons dead, known to have moved and who failed to vote were not included in the new records. Failure to vote was the cause for most of the strikes, and these persons, unless they register again, will not be permitted to cast ballots, under the law.

There are 72 regular polling and registration places in the county, and a complete list of these places was published earlier this week in conformity with election laws. The hours of registration are from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

The Democratic State Central Committee has forwarded letters to party members and workers, calling attention to the registration day Tuesday, and urging all Democrats to urge and request their friends and neighbors eligible to register to do so.

The letter, signed by Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., chairman of the committee on registration, states it is the duty and privilege of every eligible citizen to register and vote regardless of his political party affiliation or political beliefs.

Emphasis is placed on the fact that only one registration day is to be held before the primary election and only two before the general election in the fall.

Labor groups, taking an active interest in county and state politics, are also emphasizing the importance of registering and voting.

County May Abandon Union St. Site And Fire-Gutted Building

Commissioners Air Problem Informally

County commissioners at their regular meeting yesterday spent considerable time in an informal discussion of the Union Street County Building fire and the possible location of county offices housed there.

Commissioners indicated no immediate plans have been developed for rebuilding or replacing the structure, but it appeared quite possible that the fire-gutted structure might be razed and the land offered for sale, with the county abandoning the site.

Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the Board, appeared of the opinion that an addition might be made to the Court House to accommodate the state's attorney, county engineer's office and Trial Magistrates Court, the only three county offices for which the Board is actually responsible for housing.

William H. Lemmert, board member, expressed the view that an addition to the Court House would not be the proper answer. "In fact," Lemmert said, "with three new school buildings to be constructed in the county, and with space available in the old Cumberland Street School building," he believes it would just be an added tax burden to build a Court House addition, or another county office building at this time.

Site Termed Valuable

Board members agreed that the site of the fire-gutted structure is a valuable one, and might be sold to some local or out of town concern interested in a downtown business location. However, the attorney to the board stated the land cannot be sold by County Commissioners without a special act of legislature.

Criminal Trials Will Start In Court Monday

Some Traversers To Be Arraigned Today

The April term petit jury was excused in Circuit Court yesterday until Monday at 9:15 a. m. when criminal trials are scheduled to get under way.

A total of 29 indictments returned by the Grand Jury makes up the criminal docket. Several traversers, expecting to enter pleas of guilty, will be arraigned in Court today, with the balance standing trial Monday. It appeared possible, some Court attaches said, that there would be no criminal trials this term, but a couple of accused had not fully indicated whether they would prefer to be heard before the Court or before a jury.

In any event, the Court appeared to believe that criminal trials will be of short duration, since criminal appeals are scheduled for Tuesday and civil trials are scheduled to resume Wednesday.

In a civil appeals case Thursday, the Court awarded a verdict of $140 to Elizabeth Clark, plaintiff in a case against Lionel Clark. Edward J. Ryan represented the plaintiff and Leslie J. Clark the defendant.

Hazel Carder, who appealed a decision in Police Court in which she was fined $150 for the sale of intoxicating liquors, pleaded guilty in Circuit Court yesterday and was fined $100 by Chief Judge William A. Huster.

Irish Cop Finds Owner Of Wallet; Wife Finds Money

An Irish cop and his wife worked together yesterday to solve the case of the $749 lost on Water Street, Frostburg.

It all started when Joseph Arnone, Eckhart, reported to police that he lost his wallet allegedly containing $749. The report started a good deal of talk about town.

Officer George Tippen who was off duty was standing along the street when he overheard the talk. Later he walked back to his home and was told by Mrs. Tippen that she had found a wallet containing $749 on Water Street.

Mrs. Tippen said since her husband was a policeman she couldn't think of a better person to inform of the find.

Joseph Arnone agrees with her now, for Officer Tippen returned to town, found Arnone, took him to the house and counted out the money. Arnone said, "tis all there."

County Board To Discuss Federal Aid On Roads

Plan To Meet With Highway Chairman

County commissioners plan to meet with Robert M. Reindollar, chairman of the State Roads Commission next Wednesday in Baltimore, to discuss the program of federal aid in building county roads.

Reindollar wrote the commissioners explaining that in view of suggested projects under the Federal Aid Plan, the county would have to place in the hands of the State Roads Commission, a total of $134,827.41 in order to provide necessary matching funds to earn its allocated share of federal funds for the three-year period, as covered by the Federal Highway Act of 1944.

Commissioners object to the three-year outlay of money in advance, and believe the present board should not obligate the county beyond the term of office of present commissioners.

Charles N. Wilkinson, board president, further explained that the Federal Aid Program requires road building specifications far in excess of necessary requirements based upon traffic flow on roads in question. By reducing specifications and building cheaper roads, the county can construct more miles of hard surfaced and secondary roads with its own funds than would be possible under the Federal Aid plan and state highway specifications.

Commissioners hope to reach some compromise agreement with Reindollar in an effort to get the benefit of the Federal Aid, but indicated they are opposed to the program in its present form.

The Board yesterday passed a resolution calling attention to the Daylight Saving Time beginning Sunday, and urging all county residents to co-operate as far as convenient and feasible.

Daylight Saving Time To Make Debut Sunday

Cumberland area residents will set their watches and clocks up one hour before retiring tonight as Daylight Saving Time goes into effect throughout Allegany County.

Ministers of the gospel are waiting with anxiety the morning church services and are wondering if there will be a duplication of last year when many church goers failed to get up with the new time, leaving many church pews empty, and late arrivers surprised that church was over.

Citizens Reminded Of Registration Day Next Tuesday

Concerted Efforts Being Made In County

Work has been underway all week in the office of the Board of Election Supervisors at the Court House in preparation for the county-wide registration day Tuesday and the Primary election May 3.

Patrick F. King, clerk to the board said that over 4,000 persons, whose names were stricken from the polling books for failure to vote within the past five years, have been notified by mail that they must register Tuesday if they wish to cast ballots in the primary election.

Dates of two other registration days before the general election are set as October 4 and October 11.

King stated all the election books for the county have been completely and neatly transcribed, and the names of persons dead, known to have moved and who failed to vote were not included in the new records. Failure to vote was the cause for most of the strikes, and these persons, unless they register again, will not be permitted to cast ballots, under the law.

There are 72 regular polling and registration places in the county, and a complete list of these places was published earlier this week in conformity with election laws. The hours of registration are from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

The Democratic State Central Committee has forwarded letters to party members and workers, calling attention to the registration day Tuesday, and urging all Democrats to urge and request their friends and neighbors eligible to register to do so.

The letter, signed by Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., chairman of the committee on registration, states it is the duty and privilege of every eligible citizen to register and vote regardless of his political party affiliation or political beliefs.

Emphasis is placed on the fact that only one registration day is to be held before the primary election and only two before the general election in the fall.

Labor groups, taking an active interest in county and state politics, are also emphasizing the importance of registering and voting.
